

Apartment Building Boom Expected To Increase

Apartment house construction, already at a high point in central Contra Costa County, is expected to show an even greater boom during the coming years in the opinion of real estate men and county and city officials.

"Cheap money" is one of the reasons given for this upward trend in multiple dwellings. Several cases are pointed out where "almost complete financing" was obtained by landowners in this vicinity.

Since the first of the year a total of 20 building permits for apartment structures in this area have been issued through the office of Rudy Krantz, Contra Costa County building inspector. In addition Concord builders took out permits for three and Pittsburg one, including 44 more units.

Total listed cost of the current projects in this part of the county amounts to $1,606,512, according to Krantz. This does not include the original cost of the land and probably is a low cost figure in most cases.

WALNUT CREEK'S apartment construction within the city limits even exceeds the county figure. The total valuation of apartment building permits issued by the office of Terry McLeod since the first of the year is $1,773,847, exclusive of the lots.

The total apartment house permits issued so far this year in Walnut Creek amounts to an even dozen. None were issued the first two months of the year. In March there were two permits with 44 units, in April two permits with 95 units, including the 75-unit Terra Ygnacio Apartments at more than half a million dollars, slated at Ygnacio and Walnut.

Walnut Creek issued two in May for 17 units, two in June for eight units and three in July for a total of 83 units.

ORINDA and Rheem are also "hot spots" in current apartment development. Orinda currently has half a dozen apartment buildings under construction or contemplated, with a total of 52 units provided. Rheem has seven presently being built with 36 units.

Bill Treadwell, senior sanitarian of the county health department, reported early this year that his office services a total of 72 separate apartment buildings in the Lafayette, Orinda and Moraga area alone. These structures contain a total of 661 units.

Fourteen more apartment buildings are either in the process of construction or recently finished in this area, providing 93 more living units.

"Most of the new structures are frame," Krantz pointed out. "This limits their total height to three stories although there are some apartments which are locating concrete garage and storage space beneath the ground level."

Asked what he considered the basic reason for the boom in multiple housing, the county building inspector replied:

"NEW BUSINESS, such as the new Montgomery Ward store, bring on a demand for increased living space. Also the improvement of highways and the addition of other communication lines such as new bridges bring a greater flow of population to the region."

Sanction of the Rapid Transit measure to go on the November ballot is also expected to have a definite boom effect on apartment construction according to some of the real estate fraternity.

Transit Backers Study Finances as Opposition Forms

While a special committee was pondering the financing of the Rapid Transit election campaign in Martinez yesterday, Paul Revere Cowles announced that he would spearhead a drive to defeat the huge bond issue in November.

Cowles had conducted a one-man campaign against the Bay Area Rapid Transit District since its inception. A consulting engineer and self-styled economist, Cowles bombarded city councils and boards of supervisors with his mimeographed indictments of the BARTD plan during recent weeks.

"Pleasanton civic leaders and those of several other fringe towns have already asked me to speak at special meetings," Cowles declared.

"They're just beginning to realize that they not only aren't going to benefit from the Rapid Transit plan as currently proposed—but they're going to be charged additional taxes if it is ever expanded to serve them."

COWLES' SOLUTION is private enterprise. He insists that the Southern Pacific railroad could provide rapid transit better than a special transit authority.

The engineer, simulating his namesake, "Paul Revere," has been visiting all outlying areas of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties. His campaign is for "Rapid Transit without taxation."

Meanwhile, at Martinez, acting chairman Harry L. Morrison Jr. called a meeting yesterday to permanently organize a Transit Advisory Committee. After the election of officers the first order of business was to seek ways of financing the campaign.

TWO METHODS of financing are being considered. Use of gas tax funds is permissible or funds from the Federal Housing and Home Finance can be obtained if requested by the board of supervisors, according to Morrison.

Members of the committee are Supervisor James Kenny, Public Works Director Victor Sauer, Mayors Leonard Grote of Pleasant Hill and Joe Bellico of Pittsburg, Marvin Joseph, representative for cities on the Rapid Transit board; R. D. Brosth, secretary to the commission, and Morrison.

Morrison admitted that problems of mass transit are being considered by the cities of Pittsburg, Concord and others not actually served by the BARTD plan.

Cowles has directed his campaign against the plan to these areas. He also declared:

"We should utilize all the railroad tracks available to cut down the initial investment necessary. That's where my plan would save money and would keep us from going a billion dollars in debt."

Cowles has prepared a brochure for distribution on request. He makes his office at 3105 High Street in Oakland.

Today Is Kids Day At Big County Fair

Today at the Contra Costa County Fair will be the favorite day for all the thousands of children in the county, for it is the day that means free admission to all children under age 16 until 5 p.m.

This will also be the day that many of these same children show their skill in many contests and enjoy special programs designed for them.

A special baseball contest has been prepared for all children to show their skill in throwing, batting and running the baseball course. Selected this year due to the increased number of children playing baseball, this contest is bound to have an overflow of participants.

The old standards of many years back, the sack races, three-legged races, ping pong, ball carry, etc., will also be among the contests to pick the most agile, fleet of foot, strongest, etc., of the children.

THE CHILDREN will be divided into groups of proper age, to allow for a more even contest, according to Fred Kline, special events chairman. They will also be divided into boy-girl groups for prizes and trophies, so the girls will have a more even chance at some of the contests.

The north lawn will be one mass of children from 10 a.m. to well past noon.

The 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. horse show will find many children exhibiting their talents in this direction, in the junior classifications and many are ready for these main events, after practicing with their horses for months.

Those that don't care to watch or participate in the horse show at this year's Kids' Day at the fair, will find a load of fun on the carnival rides and other concessions on the midway.

OF SPECIAL interest to all will be the "Art in Action." Normally done by only the adult masters, this unique artistic hobby will be demonstrated for all viewers and questions answered.

Young Shannon DeHart of Antioch will display his talents in clay sculpturing and molding as his contribution to this portion of the day's events, and will also bring some examples of his creation for all to see.

"Art in Action" has long been a favorite of fairgoers, and this year it is expected that many, young and old, will find these educational exhibits interesting and informing.

Adult "Art in Action" will be exhibited by Pauline Fowler demonstrating ceramics, Karen Basile working in gouache, and Francis Rodriguez working in mosaics. These adult artists will exhibit from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow.

At 7:30 p.m. the scene shifts to the Western Village for the entertainment specially prepared for the Kids' Day, with the performance of the Maradon Show, a special musical variety show with children performing "Babes in Toyland."

Broadway Center Sponsors Prize Drawing and Art

Broadway Shopping Center this week announced plans for its "Back to School in Style" late summer promotion, which will include an art and crafts competition plus a special drawing of merchandise awards totaling $500 in value.

"These are the two greatest combined events we have ever offered to the young folks of the area," said B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants' Association.

The art and craft show is scheduled for August 16, 17 and 18. First prizes of $35 and second prizes of $25 are being given in three classifications—painting and drawing, sculpture and ceramics, block prints, photography, wood carving, etc.

There is also a third prize in the painting and drawing group. All students of county high schools, including 1962 graduates, are eligible to compete.

Tickets for the merchandise drawing will be available at all Broadway Shopping Center stores beginning August 15. The actual announcement of winners will come with a drawing to be held at 3 p.m. on September 1.

In the merchandise awards, first prize will be $100, second $75, third $50, fourth $25 and 25 prizes of $10 each.

Youth Fitness Program Instituted by Local 'Y'

Mt. Diablo YMCA has announced a new program which will tie in with President Kennedy's plea for physical fitness. A physical fitness camp for boys and girls from eight to 14 years of age will be held at Camp Gualala from August 8 to 18.

Ernie Marioni, YMCA physical director, will be the supervisor of the camp. He will be assisted by such coaches as Eddie Niemer, head boxing instructor at the University of California; Chuck Hobson, judo expert; Martha Tuschia, who will direct gymnastic events for girls, and Ray Van Cleef, trainer of two United States teams which went to the Olympic games.

The YMCA's physical fitness camp will offer instruction in trampolining, badminton, gymnastics, judo, football, basketball, boxing, volleyball and tumbling.

"This is the first camp of its kind on the west coast," Marioni said. "It is a sad state of affairs when our boys and girls want to participate in sports, but don't understand the proper fundamentals."

"We plan to teach those fundamentals at our camp. In addition, the boys and girls who attend the physical fitness camp will be able to join in all the activities offered at Camp Gualala."

The importance of the program of course, is self evident. It will give youngsters an opportunity to brush up on physical fitness. At a time when many leaders lament the "softness" of American youth, the local YMCA has seen fit to take prompt action.

Full particulars about the forthcoming program are available at the Mount Diablo YMCA, 1537 Sunnyvale Avenue, Walnut Creek.

Scott Does His Share to Help Kids Win Bikes

N. C. Scott of 755 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette, is a soft touch for kids working for bikes.

Six times since The Sun has started a subscription campaign last month, awarding a bike to children who earn 12 points, Scott has renewed his subscription to the Lafayette Sun.

As of this week, he will be taking the paper until 1968!

A renewal for a subscription counts one-third of a point. A new subscription counts one point. The contest will end August 31.

It is presumed before this time, the Scotts will be taking The Sun until the turn of the century.

Firecracker Pfts! 100 Acres Burn

A grass fire which threatened six homes, and could have been disastrous to the area surrounding Lost Valley Drive to Crest View Drive, Orinda, was averted Monday at 3:30 p.m. Five fire departments checked the fire within an hour.

The Orinda fire department credited the early control of the blaze to the fact that the two Orinda boys, ages nine and one-half and 11 years, who started it did not panic and run away.

THE BOYS CONFESSED to authorities that they accidentally set the blaze which blackened some 100 acres. A stiff wind fanned the flames.

The boys admitted they tried to set off a firecracker. When it wouldn't light, they dumped the powder onto the ground, and attempted to light it.

Still unable to ignite it, they added some paper for fuel. As soon as the blaze started, they ran to a nearby house and reported their deed. The housekeeper called the fire department immediately.

THE COMBINED efforts of the mutual aid from four neighboring departments, and the residents of the area, plus the construction of the homes, helped in controlling the fire.

Homeowners aided with garden hoses as fire nearly encircled two homes, and came close to four others.

One woman was nearly overcome by the dense smoke. The firemen administered oxygen.

BECAUSE OF the hazards involved and the terrain, supporting units were called from Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, El Sobrante and state forestry. The same ridge was the scene of a serious fire about six years ago.

Although a hillside corral had been cleared of grass behind the A. G. Hopp residence at 123 Crest View, Mrs. Hopp led the family's two horses to safety.

TREES AND shrubbery at the rear of the S. G. Culver home, 115 Crest View, and the Bill Lee home, 119 Crest View, were scorched.

There was no structural damage to any home.

The blaze was brought under control in about an hour. Fire patrols were maintained into the evening.

The boys who set the fire will be under probation of the OFD for a year. They had never before been in trouble.

Rites Held for Freeway Victim

A Lafayette family was lucky in avoiding injuries, and a Walnut Creek man was dead in traffic accidents this week, according to the California Highway patrol.

Homes Robbed While Residents On Vacation

Three homes were robbed this week while their owners were away or vacationing, according to reports of sheriff's deputies.

A go-cart was stolen from the carport of the Harold Frybarger residence at 6 Deodaro Lane, Alamo, valued at $150.

Mrs. Edward Rosston will come back from Europe to find that her mink stole, sable scarf and Persian lamb jacket are gone and her sterling silver flatware has been stolen. Deputies said the robbery occurred at the Rosston residence, 3913 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, sometime last Thursday.

Paul Hammarberg, of 3950 Los Arabis, reported that two cases of liquor were stolen from his kitchen and a transistor radio from his car in the garage sometime while he was on vacation last week, deputies said.

Youth for Christ Rally Tomorrow

Youth for Christ will hold its August rally tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. at the Walnut Creek recreation center.

The All-Teenage Choir will offer a special selection under the direction of Rev. Martin Brown. A special gospel film, "Dark Valley," will also be shown.

Moraga General Plan to Be Decided by Planners

A plan for action to oppose the proposed $6 million condominium next to Miramonte High School was formulated Monday night by representatives of homeowners in the area. It called for "petitions, postals, people and presentations" to protest the swank multiple.

The condominium application by Duffel-Smoother Companies will be the second item on the agenda at the County Planning Commission. The planners will convene at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday night, Hall of Records, Court and Main Streets, Martinez. It will be a continued public hearing from July 10.

FIRST ON THE agenda will be the decision on the Moraga General Plan. This will not be open to discussion from the floor. It is expected that Alternate Plan A will be recommended by the planners, although it has met with stiff opposition from the residents of the community, due to the 25 acres of multiple zoning adjacent to the high school.

It is in this area that Duffel-Smoother propose to build their luxury garden 303-unit condominium.

The homeowners represented at this week's meeting were from the Ivy Drive area, the Ranchitos Association and Diablo View, the area directly across from the high school.

INVITED TO SIT in at the session were Robert Amber and Charles Wright of the Moraga Valley Community Club. Amber and Dr. Lee Nelson, co-chairman of the club's civic affairs committee, were part of the 13-man study committee which formulated Alternate Plan A and Alternate Plan B for the general plan.

The suggested revisions were reached after two years of study by representatives of the community, Utah Construction Company, the landowners, and Planner Boone Robinson, chairman. Plan A would substitute 100 acres for a "technological research facility" instead of the 200 acres of controlled manufacturing called for in the original plan. It would allow about 25 acres of multiples.

PLAN B would zone the area for single family residential zoning of medium density. While the homeowners almost unanimously favor Plan B, Utah representatives have stated that the company would not settle or anything except Plan A "without a fight".

Residents have said they would compromise on Plan A, minus the multiple zoning.

The July 10 public hearing was closed with such suddenness that the representatives of the area across from Miramonte didn't make planned protests.

"First thing we knew, we found ourselves out in the hall," said Warren Merrill, president of the Ranchitos Association. He partly blamed the group's lack of experience in parliamentary procedure on not making their presentation at the hearing.

PETER STARK, Orinda pharmacist, was to be spokesman. He will make the presentation Tuesday.

According to Merrill, the Ranchitos were told by a commissioner to get their material into the study session, July 24. They submitted their signed petitions and letters of protest to this session.

However, the evidence was not taken under advisement, as the planners ruled that the material couldn't be submitted after the hearing was closed. This was backed by the district attorney's representative.

The letters and petitions were forwarded to the board of supervisors. Merrill stated that he will recoup them for Tuesday's public hearing.

After the study session, the planning staff received several inquiries as to whether the condominium hearing was closed or continued, according to H. Russell Griffith of the planning staff.

THE RANCHITOS' letter reads, in part: "We feel that there is no need for this type of housing. We have invested our lives and our fortunes in our homes. We, as constituents, enjoin our representatives to heed our wishes."

The objections to the controversial triangle were on the grounds that the "crowded, high density condominium... poses an added danger" on Moraga Way. "Multiple dwellings would create an unexpected hazard for students (of Miramonte) and younger children. We suggest that the planning commission observe the intersection of Moraga Way and Ivy Drive on a normal school morning."

Backing the rezoning of the triangle on behalf of Duffel-Smoother was a report by Livingston and Blayne, city and regional planners of San Francisco.

THEIR REPORT based the recommendation for such a development largely on the projected growth of the area. It states that the Shepherd Canyon Freeway, which will be ready in about 10 years, makes the triangle "a problem area."

Utah Co. Land Sale

Utah Construction and Mining Company announced Tuesday the sale of 330 acres of subdivision land in the Moraga Ranch area to Russell J. Bruzzone.

Bruzzone is a well known Contra Costa builder and developer who has been active in the building program in the Moraga Ranch in the last few years.

According to F. M. Keller, senior vice president of Utah Construction and Mining Company, 1300 acres have been sold of the original 5000 acres acquired by Utah in 1953.

Tuesday's transaction was handled by Ed Wallace, Orinda realtor.

Two Nutrition Workshops Scheduled by Heart Group

A two-session nutrition workshop for nursing and boarding home operators was scheduled at a recent meeting of the Contra Costa Heart Association Nutrition Committee and the Contra Costa County Social Service Department.

Dates selected for the meetings were August 29 and September 5, from 8 to 9:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Charles Aiman, Walnut Creek chairman. The meetings will be held at the Red Cross building in Walnut Creek.

The workshop will consist of discussions of well balanced diets.

THE PROGRAM will include a taste testing of restricted sodium foods, distribution of menus, recipes and diabetic exchange lists.

Members of the nutrition committee who will participate in the program are: Mrs. Iris Crump, Pleasant Hill; Mrs. Shirley Ellis, Mrs. Waneta DeWeard and Mrs. Barbara Alves, Martinez; Mrs. Helen Torbet, Concord; Mrs. Francis Miles and Mrs. Aiman, Walnut Creek.

Invitations will be mailed to nursing and boarding home operators in the county.

Diablo Girl Scouts End Conclave; Head for Home

By JEAN NEBEN
Sun Correspondent

Our last Roundup Arena campfire for the Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Button Bay, Vermont, has been held and the members of the Diablos and Puitas patrols from the Diablo Valley Council are ready to break camp and head for home.

Our two weeks have been so full that it seems as though we only arrived yesterday.

Sunny days have been few and far between but the members of the two patrols kept busy preparing their demonstrations, cooking and just having fun.

DURING THE closing campfire we answered President Kennedy's challenge of serving the future and mankind through world peace.

During our two-week roundup stay we have had many, many visitors, including Baroness von Trappe, mother of the Trappe family singers; Mrs. Culmer, national president of the Girl Scouts and Miss Betty Lou Baskin.

We all feel that our stay at camp will never be forgotten because of all the new friends we have made and the fun we have had. Our troop was made up of girls from Iowa, Ohio, New Jersey and one girl from Mexico.

WE HOPE the trip will be as exciting as the trip to Vermont. We took a sightseeing tour of Chicago and broadcasting our singing in Montreal.

Girls making the trip included: Cornelia Davis, Teen Dawson, Judy Jacobson, Cathy Reeser, Arleen Rollman, Judy

Baldwin Answers Bookshop Claims

Following an article by George Colburn in The Sun on the Lafayette's "Freedom Bookshop," Mrs. Joan Lingel, 3360 North Lucille Lane, Lafayette, wrote to Representative John Baldwin for clarification on a few points in the story.

The article on the politically conservative bookshop at 3569-A Mt. Diablo Boulevard appeared in The Sun May 18. Her letter was written to Baldwin on May 19.

His answer to the letter came recently.

The article was written following distribution of 3000 flyers to Lafayette residents publicizing the bookshop's open house to be held on May 19.

AS WELL as inviting residents to come to the open house, the flyer made three points which helped to define the bookshop's political policy.

Point one claimed that the U.S. signed a treaty with the United Nations to give up military supplies, armed forces and atomic weapons to the UN.

Baldwin, in his letter, stated "I am not aware of any treaty of this type which has been entered into by the United States."

Point two in the flyer claimed

"there is an UNESCO treaty requiring complete control of our educational system which awaits ratification by our senate."

Baldwin said, "It is my understanding that the UNESCO Treaty has been drafted, but that it has never been acted upon by the senate."

Point three in the flyers claimed "that the federal firearms act takes away the constitutional right of the people to keep and bear arms, and that the Anusio Bill would enforce that law."

BALDWIN SAID he "was not aware that the federal firearms act is unconstitutional. If it was, any persons to which the act applies could bring an action in the federal courts to have the law declared unconstitutional."

Baldwin enclosed a copy of the Anusio Bill. It requires the filing of a registration statement with the Federal Bureau of Investigation with respect to each pistol possessed by any private person in the United States. It is H.R. 613 and dated January 3, 1961.

The defined purpose of the bill is that (1) "the unrecorded possession of pistols imposes a burden on commerce because it facilitates the use of pistols to carry out crimes involving goods in commerce and the assaulting, wounding and killing of individuals engaged in commerce; (2) in the event of a future war involving the United States, information as to the number, location and types of pistols in the United States would be indispensable to the prosecution of such a war."

The failure to register within three days of consecutive possession of a pistol carries a maximum fine of $500.

THE BOOKSHOP is owned by Mrs. John Richardson of Orinda. It has been open since January and specializes in books by persons following today's conservative line of politics.

However, the bookshop is not politically affiliated with any party or candidate.

Mrs. Richardson, her co-workers and a study group she directs supported Joseph Shell against Richard Nixon and are backing Max Rafferty for superintendent of education.

Mrs. Richardson's idea in opening the bookshop was "to make people aware of today's communist conspiracy in the United States."

ED AMATRON, manager of the Sprouse-Reitz variety store, and president of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, looks at a swim suit which may be one of the bargains on sale at Orinda Value Days. Orinda merchants will participate in the giant value sale August 8-9-10-11.

'Orinda Value Days' Will Stretch Budget

Thrifty Orinda housewives are planning to take full advantage of "Orinda Value Days," starting Wednesday, and continuing through Saturday.

"Orinda Value Days" will feature back-to-school specials, as well as home needs and special services.

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce will beat the drums for this promotion in their regular bulletin. Ed Amatron, president of the chamber, suggests that mothers avoid the back-to-school rush and take advantage of "Orinda Value Days" while the selection is complete, and the prices right.

John Ogden, Rotary president, says that patrons of Orinda's merchants can add $1.60 onto their savings, as that is what it figures to drive a car to and from downtown Oakland.

Family of the Week

THE C. M. FITZGERALD FAMILY

Birds of a Feather

PREENING PEACOCKS are only part of the pet kingdom that keep children (1 to 100) delighted in the park-like atmosphere that prevails around the home of the Clayton (Bud) Fitzgeralds on Miner Road way.

Besides the male peacock shown above, there is mama peacock and her new baby, rabbit hutchies reminiscent of a county fair, thirteen ducks at current census and a handsome golden pheasant that adds his fine color to the country-house decor. (There's usually a lamb or two!)

"Bud" and Agnes, well-known Orindans who have lived here for the past fifteen years since they built their Miner Road house, are starting all over again with the pleasures that come from little children. They've raised two daughters, Kathy 20, a friendly, familiar face at Orinda's Sprouse-Reitz store where she clerks, and Karen, 17, a Miramonte senior.

THEN THERE'S son Robert who is married to the former Mary Lou Devin and whose two darling daughters have given "Grandpa" Bud a new incentive with the hobby of fur and feather friends that has been his since long before the Fitzgeralds were married, over 25 years ago.

Bud's hobby was especially booming when his neighbor Leo Lemire (now living in Sebastopol) had like interests. Between the two of them, they had enough animals and birds to fill a park.

WHEN THE Lemires moved away, Bud's interest waned a bit. Now it has been given a special boost by granddaughter ters E. B. (Elizabeth Bridget), two and one-half, who was born on her great-grandmother Bridget Cummings' birthday, and by six-month-old Rebecca who, according to her grandmother Agnes, will be another Rebecca of Sunnybrook ("change that to Fitzgerald") Farm.

A FOREMAN for a steel casting company, Bud is a native bay area as is wife Agnes who's been through the Cubs, Scouts, schoolage activities with her three and now enjoys her new role as grandmother, baby-sitting. She also has a green thumb.

This year the zinnias are gorgeous and zooming and you can bet any errant peacocks or ducks know what's "off-limits" to them in HER garden.

Registration Deadline Approaching

Students who meet a rapidly closing registration deadline may still enroll at Contra Costa College in San Pablo for training in three varied fields, all with excellent job opportunities.

John L. Wixon, assistant dean of instruction, reports some fall semester vacancies in electronics, dental assisting, and cosmetology classes. While the first two are also offered at Diablo Valley College at Concord, Contra Costa College alone offers cosmetology.

WIXON SAID interested persons should file their applications with the admission office and arrange for an appointment with a counselor, the taking of entrance examinations, and the filing of high school or college transcripts.

Dental assisting, a semi-professional field, is a one-year course leading to employment in private practice, government clinics and hospitals, the women's branches of the Armed Forces, and in dental supply houses and laboratories.

Instruction covers receptionist duties, chairside and X-ray techniques, and the fundamentals of typing, bookkeeping, business correspondence, good speech, some psychology, and on-the-job experience.

THE COLLEGE'S cosmetology program, Wixon said, qualifies the graduate for a state license examination, pointing out that in the long history of the program no student has failed a state examination, of lacked immediate employment.

As for electronics, he said, technicians are in great demand and graduates are assured of almost immediate employment, particularly in the field of guided missile research.

All three offerings are fulltime day courses.

on hand to give facts and figures on how it will reflect in this zone at a real estate meeting sponsored by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board in Concord yesterday morning.

Completion of the new Benicia-Martinez bridge and its opening next month is expected to show a marked influence on the region, according to Kralitz. With the toll less than a third what the old ferry boat charge was, shipyard workers from Mare Island and others from Solano County can be expected to move here.

CONDOMINIUM apartments are receiving great verbal support at the present time but most of the projects are being delayed because of the difficulty of setting up ownership outside the actual apartment and resulting confusion on county tax rolls.

"Who lives in apartments?" was asked in several quarters. Most of the more expensive apartments apparently are occupied by older couples whose children have grown and married, permitting them the luxury of cutting down on the space they need and avoiding some of the chores of maintaining a house.

Deputies Recover $800 Loot in Kelly's Robbery

Sheriff's deputies made a 100 per cent recovery of the more than $800 worth of guns and ammunition stolen early Sunday morning from Kelly's Sporting Goods, 3707 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, by three El Sobrante youths.

The youths were apprehended a short time later as they were hitchhiking in Orinda. Picked up for questioning, the youths said they were waiting for two friends to come by in a car.

LATER, THE THREE boys showed officers where they had stashed away the cache.

Included in the loot were three shotguns, three rifles, five handguns, one sighting scope and 10 cases of .22 caliber ammunition with 500 rounds per case and $20 in change from a cash register.

The deputies responded to the call after Richard Schleuning, of 3713 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, phoned to report he had heard the sounds of breaking glass at the sports goods store.

The officers had just come from a gas station in Lafayette, the Village Texaco Station, where they had arrested two

"You'd be surprised how many couples delight in getting away from mowing the lawn, cleaning up the yard, washing the windows and all those other jobs that become more back-breaking as a person's age increases," said one real estate man who refused to be quoted because, as he pointed out, "I'm still selling houses, too."

CHANGE IN the construction of apartments is being predicted as many of them turn to concrete in order to cut down the noise potential that has been difficult to eliminate in the all-frame structures.

Some are utilizing pre-cast concrete walls. The work of pouring the forms is done on the ground at the location of the apartment building, then the walls are hoisted into position and dove-tailed together at the corners with fresh-poured concrete. This interlocks with the pre-fab units to provide strength and reduce noise vibration.

In addition to reduction of sound, the concrete base provides greater fire protection, according to its proponents. The cement is reinforced with steel and in some cases steel beams are also used.

Fanning Heads Insurance Men

Paul Fanning, Walnut Creek insurance man, has been named president of the Mt. Diablo Life Insurance Underwriters' Association, it was announced this week.

Serving with Fanning are Charles Stevens, first vice-president; Art Brunkhorst, second vice-president; Frank Foster, third vice-president; Robert Martin, secretary; Douglas MacPherson, treasurer, and Alan Alexander, immediate past president.

Directors named by the underwriters include: Robert Angel, James Gillam, R. I. Harman, Carl Jorgenson, Thomas Reed, Roy Rolan and Jay Wilcox.

Because a "substantial majority of voters" approved of continued park development in the recent park bond election which failed to pass by the necessary two-thirds majority, the County Parks and Recreation Commission urged the Board of Supervisors to launch a pay-as-you-go program for the acquisition and development of park sites.

Commission Chairman Gordon Langlois appeared before the Supervisors Tuesday with some development to be considered before adoption of the final county budget next month.

SUPERVISORS LISTENED with interest as Langlois and Recreation Commission President Edward I. Kotok suggested the following steps for this fiscal year:

1. Acquisition of a 110-acre parcel below San Pablo Dam, which includes the scenic Eucalyptus Grove.

2. Renegotiation, with East Bay Municipal Utility District, of the contract for county purchase of Briones land so that it would include 670 more acres than the 1435 acres now being bought in yearly stages.

3. Funds for starting development of available or potentially available park lands, including those at Briones, near San Pablo Dam, the airport, John Marsh home and Mallard Slough.

FIFTY-NINE per cent of the voters in the June park bonds election showed they want a park program, Langlois said, and that they are willing to pay for it.

The commission said it has considered the possibility of starting the pay-as-you-go plan as an alternative to immediate bond financing.

"Some of the lands needed must be acquired soon before they are taken for other uses and lost for park purposes," the report stated.

"The county's present rate of expenditure for park purposes is completely inadequate to implement such a park program," Longlois warned.

HE SAID THAT the initial development funds should include enough for water, sanitation and simple recreational facilities.

District Attorney John A. Nejedly suggested the advisability of getting support of the Oakland City Council and the Alameda County Board of Supervisors on park developments with EBMUD.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

Take Me Out to the Rheem Game

ROOT ROOT ROOT for Rheem team tomorrow and you can't lose!

Tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at Donald L. Rheem School, the dads of the boys who played in the recent minor and major league baseball will be up at bat.

The dads of the Rheem Center minors (national division) will stand nine oldtimers from the Rheem majors sponsored by the Moraga Lions.

No matter who wins: Charles Drugs should do a booming liniment business.

Last night, the Rheem Center boys, with their families, were honored at a dinner at Marini's. It was nearly a victory dinner as the boys went into the final weeks of play in first place, only to lose to Merritt Tanks, 6-1, Friday night and Lafayette Toyland, 7-6, Monday night.

We recommend for Rheem's Minor League Hall of Fame: Mark Grote, Todd Rockway, Kevin Allison, Jeff Shain, Peter Davidson, Steve Lestly, Kevin Glasky, John Walker, John Hoover, Bruce Killian, Brad Richards, Kyle Burnette, Wayne Killian, Eric Swanson, Scott Nelson, and Bob Blackmur.

Steve Lestly, an English boy who had his first taste of baseball (yummm), proved to be the team's best rooter. Cliff and Bobbie Lestly and their progeny (including Steve's sisters Susan and Ann) moved to Donald Drive about a year ago, from Ford Motorsville, Dearborn, Mich., where they had moved from England, six months prior to... (Did I lose you on the Atlantic?)

The energetic Dr. Lee Nelson coached the boys with an assist by Don Swanson, Arn Blackmur, Al Shain, Walt Rockway and Frank Hoover.

HELPING HAND. On June 4, four days after his twenty-first birthday, Ray Luttrell—everybody's favorite at T-Bone's Rheem Hot Dog-Pizza Stand—was the victim of a hit-run accident on his motorcycle. Ray is still at Highland Hospital—minus a foot. (How about sending him a card?) Ray's wife, Ava, will have their first child any minute.

Mr. T-Bone and our own columnist Marie Monahan have reopened a Helping Hand trust fund for Ray (used previously for Orinda victims of a landslide). All who wish to help, can make contributions to the fund through T-Bone, Marie, or Merle Brown at the Orinda Wells-Fargo.

HUSH HUSH. Ray's pals, the Calif. Highway Patrolmen, reached deep into their pockets to show the spunky young man what they think of him. And Donald L. Rheem, who manages to keep his philanthropic deeds under wraps, has a substantial check with which to open Ray's Helping Hand Fund. Neither the CHP nor DLR wanted any publicity on this, but a certain Moraga fire chief doesn't call me "Old Blabbermouth" for nuthin'.

TOO BAD. Newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hingle, 26 Fieldbrook Place, were robbed of wedding gifts and heirlooms before they'd been in their home long enough to unpack them. Contents of the barrels in which the china, dinnerware, silver, crystal, etc. was packed in the garage of the Hingles' home were marked on the sides.

Charles "Chuck" Grundon had his Volkswagen panel truck knocked over at 8 a.m. the other Thursday by a Cad driven by Milton Clausenius of Lafayette. At Hamlin and Moraga Roads, the Cad knocked the Volks across the centerline into a Dodge, driven by Ray Deciero. I was on my way to The Sun; and not being an accident reporter-type at heart, pondered about investigating the mess—car toppled over, glass and ambulance men in evidence. Duty won out. Pencil and notebook in hand, I approached the wreck. "Victim" Chuck, nephew-by-marriage of Aunt Helen Hetfield of the Moraga Barn, helped me pick up the press card and other items that fell out of my wallet. The ambulance drove away empty—and no, I didn't chase it.

GOOD GOOD. The Moraga Junior Horsemen's Association, Inc. members are selling advance tickets to the barbecue lunch (for a nominal $1.50—kids 75c) which will be served from noon until 2 p.m. at their Gymkhana-Rodeo-Horse Show. There will be 17 classes at the classy fall event, August 12. Capt. and Mrs. Harold Parker's arena in Bollinger Canyon will provide the magnificent setting.

Another "don't miss it" event: The Dramateurs' presentation of "The Grass Harp" by Truman Capote. Curtaintime at the Lafayette Playhouse is 8:30 p.m. this week-end and every Friday and Saturday nights through August 25. The Sun's El Silverman proved herself a real trouper by stepping into one of the leading roles immediately upon her return from Europe with The Sun tour.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL Service has recently added a new group with the DePorres of the Moraga-Orinda area. Many of the members are Orchard Dellers. First benefit will be a wine tasting party at Mike Lynn's on September 22 from 5-7 p.m., according to chairman Joan Coc. Officers are: Gael Davitt, president; Marge DeJohn, secretary; Jane Henry, treasurer; Albe Kostyrka, publicity chairman. Anyone interested in further details, call 376-4891.

BUSTER MARINI'S bistro has a living advertisement these days with the gathering of the 49'ers who enjoy tomato juice and soft drinks in the patio when they're not working out at St. Mary's. A patron, seeing Bruce Bosley, John Brodie, Bob St. Clair, Leo Nomellini, Bob Waters et al dig into juicy steaks, decided that this must be a very good place to eat.

Buster, who looks like a pro ball player himself, knows the 49'er giants from pheasant hunts at his Suisun ranch.

CON CONDOMINIUM. Dedicated opponents to a condominium in the controversial triangle next to Miramonte High met at Vincent Maher's home in Diablo Estates Tuesday night. Among those attending were Lucy Baird, Dick Kostyrka, Warren Merrill, Ralph Walch, Robert Cron, Robert Amber, and Charles Wright. The Night Of Decision will be Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Hall of Records, Martinez. The group is going to circulate a flyer urging residents to appear before the hearing in silent protest—and not "to cry later."

BEAUTY. It was hard to tell candidates for the Walnut Festival Queen from the campaigners without a scorecard this week. Pretty Sue Ostrander of Donald Drive was campaigning for pretty Carol Tessman of Orinda... Pretty Carol Crosby of Carroll Drive was campaigning for pretty Cheryl Robinson of Concord.

AGE. The class of June, '39 from Oakland High School (these are MY people) will have a reunion Sunday night, November 11 at Lake Merritt Hotel. If you know of a lost grad, contact Betty Moffitt Grady, 580 Silverado Drive, Lafayette. Phone: 283-3438. I started kindergarten with Betty. She had curls below her waist that made me ashamed to take off my tam-o-shanter to show my shingle, as we used to say in the Dark Ages.

Go to Church

COMMUNITY CHURCH

(United Church of Christ)

The Rev. Arthur Hobart will preach at the 8 and 10 a.m. worship services in the Orinda Community Church. "Freedom's topic. Mrs. Roy Clark and Mrs. Arthur Weatherbe will sing "The Lord's My Shepherd" by Smart.

Child care and church school classes for children through the sixth grade will be provided at the 10 o'clock hour.

LUTHERAN

"The Lord's Supper as a Sermon" is the sermon theme of the Rev. Merle O. Tollefson at the 8 and 9:30 a.m. Sunday services of Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Lafayette.

Sunday school for pre-school through third grade children will be held during the 9:30 a.m. service.

Monday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. the first day of Daily Vacation Bible School will convene. This school will meet through the 17th of August. Monday at 7:30 p.m. the stewardship and proposal committee will meet at the home of the D. R. Lopers, 23 Hartwood Court, Lafayette.

Wednesday at 8 p.m. the Mid-week Bible Class will meet and begin a study of "Job."

PRESBYTERIAN

The Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette, will hold Sunday worship services at 10 a.m. The Rev. William Carl Thomas will begin a series of sermons based on Philipians, with Sunday's sermon entitled "Marks of Christian Maturity," based on Chapter 1.

Church school for children through third grade will meet at 10 a.m. and nursery will be held.

The all-church picnic will be held at 1 p.m. at the Willowbrook area at Lake Temescal Park. Families should bring their own picnic lunch and utensils. Ice cream and beverages will be provided.

LUTHERAN

Sunday school for pre-kindergarten through the fourth grade is held at 9:30 a.m.

Children in the area who are about to start kindergarten through the ninth grade in the fall, are invited to attend Daily Vacation Church School which will be conducted from August 20-24. Children may be registered by phone or mail.

A council meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m.

UNITARIAN

Don Ford will discuss "A Looking at the Looking" at the Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church on Sunday. An active member of the church, Ford is a social work supervisor for Contra Costa County.

The adult service will be held at the American Red Cross Building, 2121 Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek, at 10:30 a.m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Mankind's need for prayer based on heartfelt gratitude to God will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Love" is the Golden Text from the Bible (I John 4): "God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

A citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 4): "What we most need is the prayer of fervent desire for growth in grace, expressed in patience, meekness, love, and good deeds."

Christian Science churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda; 2 Eckley Lane, Walnut Creek, and at the corner of Grant and Park Streets, Concord.

EPISCOPAL

The services on Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda will consist of Holy Communion at 7:30 a.m., 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. The Rev. James Buxton will deliver the sermon. Child care is provided at the 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. services.

Holy Communion followed by a service of Christian Healings will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday. Child care is provided.

PRESBYTERIAN

"Can I Spare the Time and Effort to Be Friends?" is the sermon topic Dr. Ronald T. White, pastor of the Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church. Morning worship services are held at 10 o'clock in the Old Moraga School. Church school is held at the same hour.

A special congregational meeting will be held immediately following the service of worship.

SUBURBAN BIBLE

Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service of The Suburban Bible Church the Rev. Gray Lambert will speak on the theme "The Cross and the Great Commission." Holy Communion will be observed.

Sunday school classes for all ages are held in the Veteran's Building, 3499 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette at 10 preceding the morning worship service.

Nursery facilities are available at all regular services.

Wednesday night the church board will meet to discuss the business of the church and plans for the forthcoming building program which is scheduled to commence this year.

A Daily Vacation Bible School for children in grades one through seven is planned for August. The school will be held in the Masonic Hall at the corner of Brook and Moraga Streets, Lafayette, from August 13-19. The public is cordially invited.

Persons desiring to register their children are asked to phone the church at either 284-4959 or 283-6498 or 284-7626.

On Tuesday, the school staff will meet at the home of Mrs.

Walter Sensbach, 952 First Street at 9 a.m. A luncheon will be served.

Tomorrow the Suburban Church Family will have a barbecue dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heiberger, 633 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Sounds of Summer . . .

THE HAZARDS of summer & the howl of the fire engines as smoke grays & glooms the sunny skies . . . Splitting the serenity the wailing cry of a dog that's locked up while his owners have taken leave for the day . . .

The whoops & hollers from far below where the youngsters are splashing & swimming in the neighborhood pool . . . & the lusty-lungs of a baby, who's not about to take a nap, are heard across the terrace.

A PROLIFIC family of quail taking refuge in the William Douglasses' Bobolink Rd. bushes as a car comes barreling around the bend . . . & a yelp for Help by a youngster who limps along Camino Sobrante w/a big splinter buried in his foot.

AT LAFAYETTE TOWN HALL, the summer-theater crowd breaking into a burst of applause as the curtain rises on the enchantingly ethereal Tree House scene . . . something your chicks will enjoy as much as you do!

Muriel Ray, Mabel Powell & Ruth Ellis, w/their swimsuits in tow, enroute to Esther Anderson's for lunch & a dip in the pool . . . Jay Angelo & Jimmy Thaman jaunting along in their jaunty baseball uniforms & a car full of somebody's family stopping our presidential expert, Jimmie Little, just to hear him rattle off, all in a row, the names of our U.S. Presidents. They tried to trick him, but he never missed a one!

OVER ON CAMINO Sobrante, the Jay Meyers new joint (do we DARE?) rising in all its stunning & dramatic looks, a big-roofed brand new beautiful addition to that neighborhood.

AT Park Pool, Ann Fries under a white froth of a hat (like the old-fashioned dust-bonnets) THIS one to go w/her new Volkswagen convert . . . She & the children just back from a cold, brrrr, day at SF's Zoo.

OUT MORAGA WAY, the 49-ers surrounded by a sizable bunch of spectators for their first morning of Scrimmage at St. Mary's . . . Monty Clark, Bob St. Clair, just two of the big men bowled over by youthful autograph hounds.

Over at T-Bone's, Barbara Wohlfort catching a candid w/her camera of T-Bone under a straw hat & one of her son Mark ordering his hamburger . . . Maxine Meyer, Red Cross Swim program lady, catching her lunch on the run. Busy gal this week greeted foreign teenagers visiting the bay area under Operation Vista, hostessed the group last Wed. to see her "Swimming for the Handicapped" program in action.

Maxine launched another program, too, this season, a backyard swimming session where Mothers earn their water wings as "Waterproofing Instructors," to teach tads how to get along on their own . . .

Maxine's daughter Judy keeps the postals coming regularly from all over Europe where she's on the Anderson Tour w/Linda Love and Diane Madden, also of Orinda.

The Postman Cometh . . .

MORE WORD from Europe when the postman's tires squeal the arrival of a card from Phyllis Simon in Brussels who wrote 11th hr., just before catching the plane home . . .

In the still of the afternoon, a low horn toots down the street & Cornelia Adams comes out to select her greens from the familiar truck that belongs to long-time vegetable & fruit man "AL."

SUMMER CASUALTIES: Jean Hillis, back from a Minnesota family reunion, reporting sadly that she came down w/pneumonia while there . . . Petite Eva Parker, plagued by spider bites on the first part of their Seattle Fair trip. (They also did Canada.)

Gloria Jensen catching pneumonia during her stay on the Russian River . . . Her niece, Sharon Heller, down from Guerneville & her summer job at "The Riviera" Dress shop, to put on the prettiest frock & bonnet as a Member of the Wedding—for the marriage of Barbara Thomas, daughter of the James Glenn Coopers, to Thomas James Bulfinch. Which took place at the Pacific School of Religion w/a reception afterwards at Griffith's Hall on the campus.

Margaret LaCrampe carrying a bouquet of sweetpeas, the nicer to welcome a newcomer to the neighborhood. A Big Welcome for Virginia & Bill Hechtman (he's w/PacTel) & their three, Nancy, 15, Judd, 12, & Peter, 9 who are in the spanking new grey house midway on Loma Vista.

Virginia, who's called "Kelly," is back to the scenes of her childhood for it is in the same neck of the woods that she grew up, her family home now occupied by the Walter Jamesons. Kelly is the daughter of the well-known Amelia Hickock who now lives in Berkeley & the sister of the late mildred Farrar.

LEADING LADY Tish Winkworth will play the lead in a comedy-drama scheduled for KQED, Channel 9, August 20 in the Pavillion Series, live drama. The character she'll portray is based on Isadora Duncan, the dancing gal who strangled herself on her own scarf. Dear Tish, we'll all be watching!

COVER GIRLS: John Wiegand's Margaret & his daughters Debby & Maurine got Pop into the picture too, a poolside one at the gorgeous Hotel Del Coronado, where they were shot—to later grace the cover of the hotel-resort's magazine . . . probably the August issue.

S.O.S. . . . "The Helping Hand" Fund at Wells-Fargo bank will be reopened today. It is hoped that donations large or small, a nickel or a dollar, will help to get young Ray Luttrell "back on his feet." The 21-year-old Ray who has been T-Bone's manager for the past two years, was severely injured in a motorcycle accident in Redwood Canyon recently. He foot has been amputated and he may lose a hand.

Won't you help a little by offering yours to this spunky young man whose first child is expected this month? The Highway Patrolmen are setting up their own little fund but it's a long pull . . . so the Helping Hand Fund was reopened. Make your donations to Ray, Helping Hand, at Wells-Fargo. Thank You.

Jacobson Retires After Completing 21 Years Service

Lieut. Arthur Jacobson, 344 Rheem Boulevard, Moraga, recently retired from the California Highway Patrol, completing 21 years of law enforcement.

Jacobson and his wife are long-time residents of the Orinda area and have a son Arthur Jr., who resides in Concord.

The lieutenant first was assigned to Alameda County, and then was transferred to Contra Costa County in 1948. In 1957 Jacobson was promoted to the rank of lieutenant and received duty on the Bay Bridge.

Returning back to this county in 1960, Jacobson assumed administrative duties. Jacobson has seen law enforcement strength grow from 26 men to 51 in the period that he has served Contra Costa County.

Replacing Lieutenant Jacobson is Lieut. Sumner Brackett, who has served in the Bay Bridge area.

Numerous interests have kept Jacobson active in golfing, fishing, hunting, traveling and real estate.

Equally varied is the lieutenant's scholastic background. A graduate of Piedmont High School, in 1925, he graduated from Washington State College with a degree in civil engineering. Jacobson studied language at the University of California and became interested in his present line upon graduating from Northwestern Police Academy in 1951.

Paul Fanning Is President of Underwriters

Paul Fanning, district manager for Equitable Life Assurance Society, with offices in Walnut Creek, was recently named president of the Mt. Diablo Life Underwriters Association.

The association is affiliated with both California and National Life Underwriters Associations.

FANNING HAS served the life insurance industry for 12 years.

He and his family reside at 160 Hall Drive, Orinda. Fanning is active in community affairs.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Orinda Association. Fanning serves as their Tax Study Committee representative.

Other new officers are Charles Stevens, New York Life, first vice-president; Art Brunkhorst, Franklin Life, second vice-president; Frank Foster, Acacia Mutual, third vice-president.

ROBERT MARTIN, Prudential, secretary; Douglas MacPherson, Equitable Life, treasurer; Aden Alexander, Metropolitan Life, past president.

Directors include: Robert Angel, John Hancock Insurance Company; James Gillam, Metropolitan Life; R. I. Harman, CLU, Standard of Oregon; Carl Jorgenson, Metropolitan Life; Thomas Reed, New York Life; Roy Rolan and Jay Wilcox, California-Western States Life.

School Trustees Set Hearings

A public hearing of the budget for the Orinda Union School District Board of Trustees will be held Monday, 7:30 p.m. at the Pine Grove School Library.

A policy for the selection of educational materials will be submitted and a report on the recent landslide at Inland Valley School will be given. Also scheduled among the business of the hearing is the official adoption of school hours and the election of eight new teachers.

Brookwood — Dream, Reality

BROOKWOOD APARTMENTS, ORINDA'S FIRST MULTIPLE, AS SHOWN IN ARCHITECT'S RENDERING

Opening of Orinda's 1st Multiple Delayed Month

Orinda's first apartment will not be ready for occupancy before next month. July 31 was set as the original completion date.

Peter Mattei, builder and co-owner of the deluxe Brookwood Apartments, located at the Orinda crossroads, has run the gauntlet of multiple zoning approval and the recent construction strike.

The 52-unit apartment, designed by Orinda architect James Rector Lucas, will include six separate apartment buildings.

All apartments will include wall-to-wall carpeting.

Parking will be provided underneath the buildings and in carports.

Landscaping plans include a swimming pool, pool terrace, low cover shrubbery, and trees.

Head of the San Francisco construction firm that bears his name, Mattei has constructed and developed several projects in the Bay Area.

Among them are Round Hills Country Club, the Shopping Center at San Ramon Village and the Antioch Shopping Center.

As this is the first multiple dwelling in Orinda, much community interest has been focused upon it.

CC County, Walnut Creek Are High in Buying Survey

Contra Costa County and Walnut Creek ranked among the nation's leaders in per capita buying income, according to the 1962 survey conducted by Sales Management Magazine.

Walnut Creek was listed as third in the state in "quality of market index, behind Beverly Hills and Marysville. In fact seven of eight cities in the county were rated substantially above the national average of 100.

Contra Costa County, with a net effective buying income of $987,764,000 ranked 67th in the nation's leading 200 counties. Its per capita buying income of $2298 placed it 47th in the nation, although it ranks 73rd in population.

THE COPYRIGHTED figures were made available to The Sun by the Contra Costa County Development Association.

The quality index figures, apparently based upon potential buying power in relation to population in the designated market areas, give Walnut Creek $9576 "per household income" and an index of 224. Richmond has a household income figure of $6825 and an index of 119, which would indicate a market 19 per cent better than the national average.

Other figures were:

Martinez $8218 in household income and 138 in quality index; Concord, $7118 and 110; Antioch, $6868 and 110; Pittsburg, $5932 and 102; El Cerrito, $8798 and 125; San Pablo, $6044 and 85. The high Martinez figure, while not explained, is apparently due to the heavy employment of women workers in government offices, hospitals and title companies.

The report gives Contra Costa 123,400 households and a current population of 429,900 of which 342,700 is urban. It estimates total retail sales at $498,238,000 or $4038 per household.

The magazine's estimate of total effective net cash income was set at $911.9 millions with an average of $8005 per household and a county quality index of 108, indicating that Contra Costa is eight per cent above the national average as a market area.

Where's the DeMolay Dresses Up Mail Boxes Fire?

The Orinda Fire Department answered calls last week. The biggest was a grass fire, Monday, which threatened four homes.

FRIDAY—9:42 a.m., Moraga Way, deer in swimming pool; 10:30 a.m., Moraga Way, resuscitation; 3:15 p.m., Camino Pablo, one mile north of Canyon Road, washdown.

SATURDAY—11:55 a.m., Vallecito Lane, child's foot caught under a dryer; 7:02 p.m., Lost Valley Drive and Crest View Drive, grass and brush fire (see separate story); 7:02 p.m., Loso Valley Drive and Crest View Drive, watch patrol throughout night.

TUESDAY—12:05 a.m., Van Tassel Lane, auto accident; 7:25 a.m., Valley View Drive, assisted invalid; 3:21 p.m., Dias Dorados, grass fire.

Another Orinda 1st

Orinda's cloverleaf is the first state highway interchange which has ever been planted and maintained by the State Highway Division.

The Orinda Chapter, Order of DeMolay, is painting stenciled street addresses on mail boxes in the area as their vacation project.

All patrons of the post office are required to have street numbers of delivery on their mail boxes, according to Laura Mallory, postmaster.

The DeMolay service is gratuitous. However, any contributions will go to the purchase of equipment for the newly organized chapter.

Fries Will Again Be Head of Group Seeking Industry

Jack O. Fries has been reappointed chairman of the Contra Costa County Development Association's important New Industries Committee, according to J. M. Gill, president.

Gill also appointed Jack M. Miller, manager of the Crown-Zellerbach Corporation's plant at Antioch, as chairman of the newly constituted Industrial Problems Committee.

Capt. E. B. Mott, USN retired, will head the Commercial Development Committee and V. A. Fink will again serve as chairman of the organization's Airport Committee.

Gill said other committee assignments will be announced later as replies are received from a questionnaire mailed to the organization's 63 directors asking them to express committee preferences.

The New Industries Committee is charged with directing a continuing campaign to obtain new industrial investment for Contra Costa County, while the Commercial Development Committee's principal function is to co-operate with chambers of commerce, realty boards and other organizations in promoting the county's commercial interests.

Boy Scouts End Second Session Of Council Camp

Every boy attending Camp Lindblad, Mt. Diablo Council's Scout Camp in the Redwoods, the first period, advanced a rank in Scouting, according to Brooks Kuehl, camp director.

With emphasis on physical fitness as well as Scout advancement, patrols have been competing in games, obstacle course, rope climb and related activities.

A highlight was the deep-sea fishing trip from Santa Cruz, which resulted in a catch of 110 pounds of fish and a fish fry dinner last Friday.

Those who attended Fire Period June 23-30 were: Troop 184 with 25 boys; Troop 149 with four boys; Troop 138 with one boy; Troop 3 with three boys, and Troop 415 with 15 boys.

Attending the next period, which just ended, were the following: Troop 183 with five boys; Troop 244 with three boys; Troop 269 with two boys; Troop 202 with three boys, and Troop 236 with three boys.

Coffee Vending Machine Nixed

Phil Hickox's request to the Orinda Chamber of Commerce to install a coffee vending machine in the bus stop has been denied.

The chamber wrote to the state division of highways for advice of Hickox's proposal. The Orinda man operates an electrical rental equipment service.

The state division of highways originally gave permission to put the depot on the highway. It is the first one ever placed on the right of way of a state highway.

The division stated that under no circumstances would it permit a coffee vending machine.

"State law does not permit vending of any type within state highway right-of-way. Therefore, it would not be possible to authorize the use of the area for a vending machine," wrote J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer (by R. D. Kinsey, assistant).

Miramonte Mirror

Summer School Troops Let Out! Kudos, Kids!

By KAREN STAFFORD AND JACKIE VILLATA

For many Miramonteans, Friday was the best day that summer has seen, namely those going to summer school.

Studying hard through the hot summer days to make up grades, getting up at that oh, so early hour and sitting through those two hour classes—it's all over and, kudos go to those kids of you who have braved it!

The Orinda Country Club has been keeping the teens busy with all its activities, the latest being a barbecue followed by a baseball game on the golf course. Among those showing their prowess at the sport were: Bob Martin, Sue Rochester, Linda Bergen, the Stampeys, Mike McGuire, Karen Kahl, Ann Gompertz and Bob Case.

The Carroll Country Club luau ended up with a new singing star—Steve Stuckert, who took Bob Miller's place while he was at Tahoe. Steve and Doug Dermitt provided entertainment for the many adults "living it up" at the luau.

The DeMolays have a new hobby—painting numbers on mailboxes!! It sounds exciting boys but—we hear you made quite a mess! Some of the boys participating in the fund-raising activity were: Steve Brush, Bill Cooper, Chip Smith, John Cook, Tom Doolittle, Bill Easterly and Rob Spott.

Do you ever get the feeling that you just want to "get away from it all?" Well, Chip Smith is solving the problem the easiest way he knows how—by building a room in the side of the hill in his backyard, where he plans to stay. There's only one restriction—so it goes—No Women!! Well Chip —

News from Europe—All those abroad are having a ball! Can you blame them?? Katy Jones, who has been living in Switzerland for the past year, is now staying in France with a French family and will be home in September.

Rick Outman will soon be headed for a YMCA Camp where he is going to be a counselor. Hope you get all those promised letters written, Rick.

Grigg DeWitt, Clint DeWitt and Brad Peter drove to Tahoe one weekend recently, stopping by at Echo on the way.

Also Tahoe-bound is Barb Brush, who will babysit for a few days. It's a hard life isn't it?

Bonnie Beasley has been sporting a blue letter sweater—Could it be from Acalanes, Bonnie??

According to Jay Ainsworth the World's Fair was very interesting—I wonder why??? Also seeing the Fair at the same time were Jenny Ferguson and Barry Carterton.

Five Miramonteans invaded Iceland the other night. Barry Vaeger, Steve Brush, Doug Dermitt, Chris Connors and Jane Donolon then headed for the slide at the Claremont. What's this about you boys being a little upset? Could it be because Chris and Jane took off with the car??

Barb Reynolds, Kay Williams and Sue Hickox got a rude awakening the other morning at 7:30 by Carol Thompson, who decided to have the girls to her house for breakfast. It seems your kitchen turned into the Pancake Queen!!

Laurie Christie was host to many couples at a party at her home recently. A few of those swimming and dancing were: Rich Vivrette, Margot Anthonisen, John Coffey, Clarinda Telfer, Jay Jacobus, Karen Hauerken, Pete Lamb, Carol Courant, Tom Easterbrook, Nancy Allen, Charlie Abraham, Katy Jones and Dick Sutcliffe. The group was more than shocked when Laurie was given a baby alligator, which, she was told, would grow to ten feet! Good luck with your pet, Laurie—just don't let it loose!

A crowd trekked to Stanford for the big Track Meet with Russia. Those teens viewing the spectacular event under the hot, Peninsula sun were: Bruce Hutchinson, Kathy Adams, Bob Temps and Jay Donolon.

Last week many Orindans could have been found over at Kip Nelson's. He had an almost continuous 5 day get-together with his friends dropping in at all hours. A few of the many that were seen there were John Reilly, Greg Peterson, Bill Schwartz, Joan Barnes, Cherri Romer, Bonnie Kent, Pat Cambell, Doug Rasmussen, Wendy Wilcox, Don Phillips, Dean Hilger, Sue Ferston, Keith St. Clair, Chris Combs and Jackie Edenhorn.

A week ago Saturday night was San Francisco night for Roger Howard and Janice Fowler, Mike Chance and Ann Lincoln, Greg Peterson and Pat Canfield, Skip Spaich and his date. The boys (with the exception of Mike) were spending there last night in style and splendor because the next night they would be seeing the lights of Fort Ord! The crowd started at Station Jay's for dinner and dancing and then out to the streets of San Francisco for mere walking and singing!!

Saturday night was another of those great Sylvester Functions and many Miramonteans were there to listen to the music of Sylvester Grisbie and his Hotnotes. Those dancing 'til their feet were aching were Karin Nattress, Robbie Spott, Sue Brown, Keith St. Clair, Chris Felchin, Julie Winkworth, Doug Rasmussen, Pat Cambell, John Reilly and Kip Nelson.

Saturday night seemed to be a pretty busy night and Pat Hayley's house was no exception. He had a going away party for Dennis Finn who is moving to St. Louis. Those there dancing and saying Good-bys were Pat and Cecily Ford, Jim Cain and Claudette Tonasia, Dennis Finn and Mary White, Rich Pilgrim and Linda Rice, Buzz Glasky and Joyce Thompson, Tom Archer and Sue Leftwich.

On this one Sunday morning the Oakland Greyhound Bus Station was sure a sight to the daily passer-by, for in the center of the station were the Fort Ord soldiers to be with their heavy duffel bags and their long faces. For every boy that was leaving there was at least one sobbing girl. It was quite a sad occasion when each boy so bravely boarded their red and yellow Peerless Stage to Fort Ord for a SHORT six months!

Friday the 13th turned out to be a lucky day for Jo-Ann Warner. It was her birthday and what a present she got—a phone call from Ron—all the way from DENMARK!!

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HEARING

YOU ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED: THAT the construction of improvements has been completed in Contra Costa County Assessment District 1961-4, as described in Resolution of Intention No. 381, adopted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Contra Costa on October 17, 1961, and as shown on the revised plans and specifications adopted by said Board on January 23, 1962, by Resolution No. 574.

THAT LEPTIEN-CRONIN-COOPER, Engineer of Work for this Assessment District, has filed its assessment and diagram with the County Clerk of the County of Contra Costa. It is proposed to assess the cost of said improvements against each lot or parcel of land within the Assessment District in the following amounts:

THAT at 10:30 A.M. on Tuesday, August 21, 1962 in the Chambers of the Board of Supervisors, Hall of Records, Martinez, California, the Board of Supervisors will hear objections of any owner, contractor or his assigns, or any other person interested in any work done under these proceedings, or in the assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the County Surveyor-Road Commissioner or Engineer of Work in relation thereto, or who claims that the work has not been performed according to the contract in a good and substantial manner or who claims that any portion of the work for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract or having or making any objection to the correctness of the assessment or diagram or other act, determination or proceedings of the County Surveyor-Road Commissioner or Engineer of Work.

Any such person who fails to file with the County Clerk, prior to the day fixed for the hearing, a brief written statement of the grounds of his appeal shall be deemed to have waived voluntarily any objection, appeal, or protest, and such person shall be deemed to have consented to the proposed assessment and any other matter on which objection, protest or appeal could be made.

Dated: July 27, 1962.

W. T. PAASCH, County Clerk and ex-officio Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, County of Contra Costa, State of California.
By M. A. Smith, Deputy.

Monroe to Speak At Photo Confab

Free lance photographer Joseph Monroe, 100 Estates Drive, Orinda, will be one of several photographic experts to speak at the 1962 International Convention of the Photographic Society of America. It will be at the Jack Tar Hotel, San Francisco, August 14-18.

Monroe has done free lance work for Life, Fortune, Time and the Saturday Evening Post. His talk, "Definitions and Comparisons," will point out the differences between photo-journalism, pictorial and commercial work. Monroe will also point out how all three fields of photography are similar in some aspects.

The society is the world's largest photographic organization, having more than 10,000 members in 77 countries. Three thousand members, according to Col. James Ross, general chairman of the convention, are expected to attend.

Lecture sessions will be given by photographic experts and walking tours to points of interest in San Francisco will be guided by San Francisco cameramen.

A two-day pre-convention trip to the Monterey Peninsula, an all-day excursion into the Napa Valley wine country and a seven-day post-convention tour to Hawaii are also planned.

Four Cadets to Finish ROTC Training Today

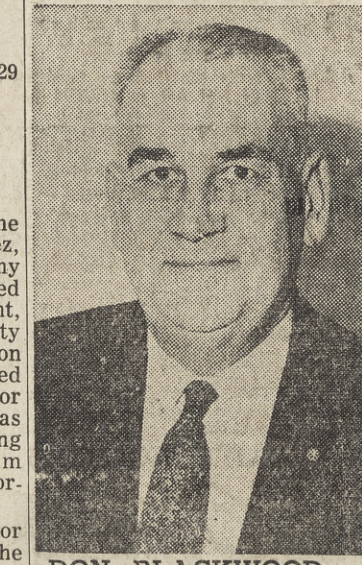

Four cadets from Orinda, all 1959 graduates of Miramonte High School, are scheduled to complete six weeks of training at the Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Fort Lewis, Washington, today.

Cadet William K. Houston III, 20, whose parents live at 1 Robert Road, is active in the ROTC program at the University of California at Los Angeles. Houston is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Cadet Mark O. Gentry, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen M. Gentry, 6 Piedmont, is active in the ROTC program at the University of California at Berkeley.

Cadet Eric J. Walling, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Walling, 77 Orchard Road, is a member of the ROTC at Pomona College.

Cadet Richard T. Myer Jr., 20, whose parents live at 7 Don Gabriel Way, is active in the ROTC program at the University of California at Berkeley. He is a member of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity.

DON BLACKWOOD of Lafayette is governor of district No. 516 of Rotary International, which includes 55 clubs in this area of Northern California. He was elected last month for 1962-63 at the Rotary's 58th annual convention in Los Angeles.

Hats Off To...

Bob Yost, a Young Man Clicking With Camera

TURN THE CAMERAS on Bob Yost, please, the young man who clicks with his camera both for The Sun and the Miramonte "Mirador," of which he is photographer and business manager.

The Salt Lake City-born son of the Marvin Yosts (he's a Montgomery Ward exec) has moved around the country a lot, started his seventh year in Pine Grove School, the seventh school for him throughout the states. As a Star Scout with Troop 200, photography first attracted his interest via earning a merit badge ... and his journalism teacher wasted no time after reading an essay on photography to tell Bob "we need you." He's been a valuable member of the Mirador staff ever since.

A SENIOR at Miramonte when he returns in September, Bob is a good student, was among the top-scoring, top-quarter 9th-10th grade students participating in the State achievement tests to receive special certificates of award.

The sandy-haired young man also photogs the feature "Family Of The Week" and many compliments for his friendly nature and patient disposition have come back to this paper's offices.

Photography is only one of his hobbies, the others being bowling (he's a member of the League), mathematics ("sometimes it's a struggle"), swimming (he's on the Miramonte Team) and his color slide collection which got its biggest boost from the family's trip to Hawaii last year and will be added to with this year's summer vacation trip.

THE FAMILY lives in its second Orinda home on Hall Drive where Bob keeps busy down in his own basement dark-room.

The Young Man with a Camera has a brother Steve, 15, and a sister, Mary, 12, who oftentimes are his most willing subjects. The latest "development" in Bob's Life is the prospect of a brand new enlarger with which he'll be able to make even better pictures.

It was his Birthday gift, yesterday!

Barkeley Invited To Present Paper

Dr. C. H. Barkeley, 23 Marioposa Lane, Orinda, an engineering research supervisor at Shell Development Company's Emeryville Research Center, has been invited to present a technical paper at the Ninth International Symposium on Combustion at Cornell University, August 27-September 1.

He will present a paper titled "Modeling Technique in Chemical Engineering Design."

The symposium is sponsored by the Combustion Institute, a professional organization of 1400 chemists, physicists and engineers engaged in combustion related.

Governing Board Slates New Dates

The governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District, in adopting its official schedule of regular meetings for the 1962-63 school year, will return to holding sessions at district administration offices in Martinez.

Such meetings were abandoned last February due to inadequate seating facilities for overflow crowds.

Under the new schedule the board, with some variations, will meet in round-robin sequence in Martinez and on campus at Diablo Valley College at Concord and Contra Costa College in San Pablo.

All regular meetings convene at 7:30 p.m. and are open to the public. Meeting places and dates are:

MARTINEZ — August 6, September 24, October 22, November 26, January 14 and 28, February 25, March 25, April 22, May 27, and June 24.

CONTRA COSTA COLLEGE — September 11, November 13, February 11, April 8, and June 10.

DIABLO VALLEY COLLEGE — October 8, December 10, March 11, and May 13.

Eighty per cent of the passenger car trips made in the United States are under 10 miles.

Nejedly Given Seminar Trip

District Attorney John A. Nejedly will attend a seminar for trial lawyers in Seattle August 11-17.

The County Board of Supervisors voted to send him at county expense at their meeting last week.

At the time the writer had set foot on the eastern shores of what is now the United States, perhaps more than 60 million head of buffalo roamed far and wide.

COOK'S CORNER

Favorite recipes and serving suggestions by popular, widely-known Orinda homemakers. Small groups for summer barbecues are favored entertaining. Here, Mary shares one of her favorites that hubby cooks in a smoker-type barbecue which they ordered from Oklahoma.

SMOKED BARBECUED SPARERIBS

3 sheets of ribs, preferably backribs. Marinate these overnight in the following sauce:

1 C. Pineapple Juice	1 T. Chili Sauce	1 T. Grind. Ginger
1 C. Pineapple Juice	1/2 C. Honey	1 T. Worcestershire
1/2 C. Vinegar	3 T. Brown Sugar	1/2 Tsp. Tabasco
1/2 C. Soy Sauce	1 Tsp. Salt	2 Buds Garlic
1/4 C. Oil	2 Buds Ginger Root

Drain the sauce off ribs and save it for marinating ribs while cooking. Cook in covered barbecue w/hickory sticks or chips added to coals for about 2 hours, turning several times until brown and crisp on the outside.

Record Number Apply for Entry In Fair Parade

Invitations to enter the Contra Costa County Fair Parade at Antioch, 12:30 p.m. Sunday have brought a record number of entries, according to Ed Calise, chairman of the 1962 parade.

Drill teams, an animated float and several mounted groups have already signed up, Calise said. This year's parade will feature youngsters dressed up in competition for best dressed cowboy or cowgirl and cars of 1914-1927 vintage.

The winner of the Fair Maid of Contra Costa title will have the throne of honor and will be flanked by her court in a special float.

Parade grand marshal will be Ann Grogan of Walnut Creek, 1961 Fair Maid of Contra Costa County.

Entries are still permitted until midnight, Saturday.

Sun classifieds appear in five papers for one bargain price.

Rapid Transit, Si; Mel Nielsen, No!

EDITOR'S NOTE: With the central county district vitally affected by the matter of Rapid Transit, we feel that "The Grapevine" column from the Concord Daily Transcript of July 25 gives an accurate summary of the situation. The Sun is weighing all important points in the matter before making its editorial recommendation.

SUPERVISOR JOE SILVA of Brentwood, has had his brief moment of glory. After his fellow supervisors had voted on putting the proposed Rapid Transit bond measure on November's ballot yesterday, Silva said, "Now it's up to the little boy from the country."

Silva's vote to place the transit proposal on the ballot broke the tie, and meant that the more than 1,000,000 voters of Contra Costa, San Francisco and Alameda counties will be able to exercise their right to vote on the issue.

There is much speculation as to whether Silva was grandstanding, holding out for the inevitable publicity, calls from the governor, etc. A source close to the board of supervisors told us yesterday that two weeks ago Silva, discussing the proposal with another supervisor, had said, "Well, the people should get a chance to vote for or against Rapid Transit."

At this time, supervisor Melvin Nielsen, of Lafayette, who opposes the measure, was away on vacation. Tom Coll, chairman of the board of supervisors, could have called for a vote, with the good possibility that it would've been 3 to 1 in favor, rather than yesterday's 3 to 2 in favor, or for that matter, the possibility of yesterday's vote turning out 3 to 2 against if Silva actually intended to vote "No."

Coll decided against this move, which would have taken place at the July 12 meeting. He did so for two reasons. To give the people of Contra Costa County more time to let their supervisors know their feelings on the matter, and to allow Nielsen the chance to vote on such an important issue.

We do believe, however, that Silva planned to vote "Yes" all the time, and was playing coy, accomplishing perhaps the neatest political publicity trick in local history.

It is hard to believe that Silva would block 1,000,000 persons from their right to vote, especially considering the consequences. Had the Contra Costa vote turned out 3 to 2 against putting the measure on the November ballot, the Rapid Transit District would have lost its allotment of right-of-way on the new Grove-Shafter freeway from the Orinda Tunnel to the Bay Bridge. To replace this right of way would have cost them at least an additional $100 million.

Also facing the district in the event that the Contra Costa County Supervisors had voted against putting the bond issue on the November ballot was a legal deadline which would have chopped off the $133 million in Bay Bridge tolls which will finance the trans-Bay tube portion of the 75-mile 37-station transit system.

Yesterday's action by the board represents the most vital issue ever to be voted upon by this county's supervisors. If Rapid Transit is carried by the public in November, it will do more for the growth of Contra Costa County than any other factor in its history. Supervisors Coll, Silva, and Jim Kenny, of Richmond, then, did this county a great service by performing what we consider to be simply their obligation.

As for supervisor Ed Linscheid, of Pittsburg, we have reservations. Granted, Silva and Linscheid felt that their constituents would face a "taxation without representation" situation, because their areas, Pittsburg and Brentwood, would derive no immediate benefit from the system.

This, however, is rather negative thinking, and Silva saw the light. Eventually, as Rapid Transit brings the thousands of new residents to the areas in this county which have terminals, they'll soon begin spilling over into the Pittsburg-Brentwood sections, and the transit system will logically follow them with extended lines and additional terminals. And until then, at least, commuters from Pittsburg and Brentwood can catch the train in Concord.

We believe Supervisor Linscheid to be a rarity—a good and honest politician, a man who will fight for what he believes is right despite any pressure which may result. We think he is sincere in his beliefs on Rapid Transit, but we also think he is confused, and in this case should have considered the greater immediate good of the whole county.

Contra Costa County will gain more from Rapid Transit than San Francisco and Alameda Counties put together. This county simply has much more room to grow, and Rapid Transit is necessary for its orderly growth and development. And the cost per taxpayer would soon be negated by an astounding increase in real estate values, including, of course, the taxpayer's own home.

As an alternative, of course, we can always build more highways, tunnels, freeways and parking lots. For a heck of a lot more money. And, by 1980, there will be 1,800,000 more automobiles on the already overburdened highways, tunnels, freeways, and parking lots in the Bay Area, on land already far too precious.

In Orinda and Lafayette, there are more commuters than in any other area of the county. They will benefit most from Rapid Transit, a wonderfully relaxing way to get to work in a hurry.

Why then, did Supervisor Melvin Nielsen who supposedly represents the residents of that area vote against the proposal? Nielsen has shown himself to be an incompetent politician many times before. This time he takes the cake.

There is one answer for the future of Contra Costa County. That answer is Rapid Transit.

SUMMER POSTCARDS: EVERYBODY is going to Dizzy-land this season. The traffic is streaming, teeming on all six tiers of the freeway. Which one? Help, I don't know... HOW do we get off?

Postcard: THIS is the Hollywood Freeway! If we're not home in a month, send out the Saint Bernards.

Dear Children: We wouldn't dream of doing Disneyland without you, but here it is on postcard & we hear there are FIFTEEN new attractions, just completed.

HOLLYWOOD: All that glitters here is definitely not gold. Like the dizzy blondes with their dizzy hairdos, their gold bats & their gilt shoes, but one doesn't have to come this far to see THAT... Half the men are pasted up with band-aids. Night club bouncers? Or just nervous shavers...

Postcard of L.A. ... A gem at night by flight. Nothing compares to its neon necklace that dazzles through the darkened plans window like a rajah's jewel for a long twenty minutes before landing time...

HOTEL DEL CORONADO: San Diego's-luxurious spa. Victorian splendor in exquisite taste, this very old hotel resort has just been given a two million dollar face-lifting by owners, the two Alessio Bros., who also own Tijuana Race Track. They became so intrigued with the job after they passed the first million refurbishing, they couldn't stop & it was worth it. Every Thousand!

BEVERLY HILLS: Palm-lined streets, posh homes & low taxes. The Mt. Vernon type manse we visited had all the trimmings of The White House, tennis courts, pool, a park-size lawn yet annual tax bill was $900.00...

A funny sight, a skeletal structure holding up a big bathtub of a swimming pool on its unfinished roof. Here, the pool comes FIRST & the rents START at 500 per month & up, up, up...

ROWS & ROWS of box-top houses, subdivisions set out like a toddler with no limit to his toy blocks. The long arms of Lost Angeles grabbing for more ground on which to build more non-descript houses, more super-duper shopping centers.

PITY THE POOR Beverly Hills millionaire who rolls down his long driveway in his Rolls & can't even get onto the street because of the teeming treadmill traffic.

NO Postcard here, not even souvenir matches, at Madonna Inn, Alex Madonna's confectionary contribution to the San Luis Obispo countryside... A handsome stone & timber layout, motel, restaurant, in the slightly overdone style of Gay Nineties Italian baroque... Polished copper table tops, ornately carved-wood fixtures by a German craftsman, painting by a Dutch artisan.

TOURIST TRAPPINGS: Conch shell basins in the rest-rooms, replete with tumbling waterfall... Red-tufted velvet doors, walls, brass & gold rope decor. A child's tiny toilette trimmed with cherubs, a lilliput's wash basin fitted with a gold rabbit faucet.

NO EXPENSE spared here; the new circular dance floor in Gay Nineties elegance; everything on eye-popping scale, like an overdose of icecream & cake.

HOMEWARD BOUND: Through Topanga Canyon where signs warn "Sorry, No Smoking." This, the scene of last year's scorcher...

POSTCARD: Last lap through the Salad Bowl of California, past geometric patterns of fertile farm country. Lettuce on the right, Onions on the left, Tomatoes on the vine & windbreaks of brown-faced sunflowers nodding their tall heads in the sun like so many yellow-bonneted milkmaids, all in a row. Wonderful Time but glad to get home. We like it here best.

LIBRARY PROTEST!

Dear Editor:

Like most Lafayette residents library one Monday morning this we are delighted with the new summer, I was amazed at the library in every way and we are number of adults and children grateful to the fine staff there and young people who came to who engineered us through the door and walked away disappointed.

Our thanks to Mrs. Stella Freedman and the staff. Mrs. Freedman has been a part of our library for so long we shall miss her interested, thoughtful and able assistance.

I wonder if there might be some way to "keep" her with us. In the best interests of the community, we cannot conceive of any justifiable reason for her reassignment! And if this is the county policy, we question it.

Also, I would like to protest the unrealistic hours (Monday-Thursday, 2-9 p.m. and Friday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m.). I have found getting to the library difficult since it is no longer open in the mornings. While working on an art project in the library one Monday morning this we are delighted with the new summer, I was amazed at the library in every way and we are number of adults and children grateful to the fine staff there and young people who came to who engineered us through the door and walked away disappointed.

I think it is shocking that during these summer months that our young people especially cannot enjoy their library. The additional morning hours are more realistic than the evening hours now provided.

Don't you think the situation bears examining? Encouraging our children into a summer reading program is considerably hampered by the lop-sided hours provided.

Thank you.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Again let me commend your paper—this time for the fair treatment of Supervisor Nielsen after his unexpected and honest denunciation of the Bay Area Rapid Transit Plan.

Nielsen became disillusioned when he checked personally in Washington to find that the Federal government aid to transportation bill might never get off the floor. Yet he and other supervisors as well as many at the July 12 Martinez meeting were told by the BARTD representatives that the legislation looked like a "sure" thing—or at least it seemed fairly certain.

We in the Bay Area are not used to such tactics and have learned that people who try to sell by implication are not our type. This no doubt influenced Nielsen's statement that the $92 million could be squandered. And don't forget these same people have the power of eminent domain.

Not dissimilar was the statement at the July 12 meeting, again by BARTD people that there was a chance that San Mateo County might reconsider joining the tri-county setup. Not so. I had talked with the people at San Mateo prior to July 12 and they have no intention of joining the plan.

Let's face it—and let's have the BARTD people publicize it—if we vote for Rapid Transit in November we will be stuck indefinitely with a three county system.

This means that we will help pay for Mayor Christopher, his "kaffee klatch" with supervisor Silva is typical of the high pressure tactics practiced from the start by the BARTD people. We are not recruiting football players, we are jeopardizing our whole property tax system by a plan that could easily cost the taxpayers $100 per hundred assessed value by 1975—the $792 million is just a start.

I'll bet that there is not another railroad in the world that will cost $10,000,000 per mile to construct. That's the basic crux of our arguments—this "perfect" plan is being rammed down our throats.

The fault is that the plan was conceived for nine counties—not three. Now the cost is practically the same as for all nine—to be shared on an "equal" tax basis by the three counties. Most of us are in favor of rapid transit, but let's lower our sights and get a plan that fits our pocket-books and yet is feasible—it can be done.

To get back to Supervisor Silva—at the completion of the July 12 meeting he stated that the only thing that impressed him in all the testimony was the request by "someone" that we let Contra Costa County residents vote separately even if we lost a year. I remember this well, because I made the request.

We "small" property owners are now faced with a strong impressive propaganda machine that will probably extol the virtues of the BARTD plan and naturally slide by the many shortcomings. I venture to say that none of the big names on the "citizens" committee at present are in the average property owner category. I know we will be heard by your paper—but what of the others—the people should know both sides.

In conclusion, what will happen to future school bond issues if taxes are "upped" by 70 cents or a dollar?

Hey, Mom! What's a Multiple?

By JANE PUTNAM

One definition of multiple dwelling is "many homes under one roof."

One definition of home is "an asylum."

One definition of "asylum" is a "a place of retreat."

One definition of "urbanize" is "to have the same characteristics of a city."

THIS IS not going to be an essay on semantics. I simply don't want to be misunderstood when I say that 90 per cent of the approximately 125,000 people in our area do not want their single family asylums urbanized.

We moved here because we wanted a retreat from the hubbub of the city.

All communities are founded on basic concepts. Ours, (if we are to believe our general plans, and listen to the voice of our community) is based on the concept of a low density population per price-less acre.

The Sun has taken no editorial stand for or against multiples.

I am speaking for myself—a low density mother who just cannot understand wot happen to our asylum in the country?

At a recent public hearing before the County Planning Commission in Martinez, planner Boone Robinson said that people should investigate the zoning in an area before buying.

THE "OLDTIMERS" (those who've been here over two years) did. They were given to understand that this was to be a place where kids could run the hillside, where Mom and Dad could sit in the patio and hear the crickets on a summer night.

Just wait until the 300 apartment dwellers move into the Luxury Garden Apartments behind the patio. Man! Those crickets won't have a prayer.

As for letting the kids play Kick-the-can on the street—it would be too risky with that steady stream of luxury cars.

There are those who say that "you can't stop progress." And this is true. One of the few straight 'As' I ever got at the University of California was in a course called Social Institutions. It was a study of the concept of progress.

MONEY WAS NOT synonymous with progress. Nor was any kind of quantity.

The developers are intent upon developing the land.

One definition of "develop" is "to unfold more completely." If I were to develop this beautiful, sacred land of ours, I'd save our trees—plant some more; and build recreational facilities; and preserve our historical landmarks.

But like I said before, I'm simply a low density mother. Just in case "the developers" keep up their present trend of "progress"—I'm starting to embroider an antimacassar with: "Be it ever so multiple—there's no place like home."

Europe: Food and Fun; Fashion and Friendliness

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

OVER THE ATLANTIC FROM AMSTERDAM TO NEW YORK VIA A KLM FLYING DUTCHMAN JET—A blonde Dutch stewardess just took away another tray of delicious open sandwiches and pastry.

This seems like my twentieth meal so far today. I snacked on the plane from Copenhagen early this morning, ate a KLM lunch in Amsterdam and soon we'll be having dinner. Then United will serve dinner from New York to San Francisco.

(I'll be back in Central Costa County by the time you read these notes.)

Memorable and miserable meals

How is food in Europe? Good and bad. I am not a gourmet and did not spend hours or many dollars on the great restaurants of Europe—so am not a good judge.

My most memorable meal was with Eleanor on the Ile de la Cite, island in the Seine River near Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris.

We bought French bread, cheese, salami, pastry and a bottle of rich, red burgundy in a little store. We picnicked in a lovely park. It was delicious.

Another beautiful meal was in Copenhagen, with the center table piled high with fish, salads, cold and hot meats, fruit, cheese, pastry, etc.

The spaghetti and other pastes of Italy were meals by themselves. We enjoyed Indonesian food in Amsterdam, cheese of Denmark, chocolates and pastry of every country.

We ate delicious dinners in Paris for nine francs—$1.87. Only in London was the food poor. Chinese, Indian and other foreign food was good but English roast beef, beef pie, etc. was almost awful.

What about wine?

And so you don't drink wine at home?

We don't and didn't plan to in Europe. But we soon found ourselves drinking white or red wine with many meals. The wine (cheaper than coffee) is very light and delicious. Some of the travelers on the Sun's Jubilee Holiday in Europe drank wine at the bus stops. Better than a coffee break?

We enjoyed trying the local drink of each country—from Dutch Jenever to Danish Akavit. And great fun was the English pub for a warm pint of bitters.

We found the English the most friendly people in Europe. (On second thought, the Danes were equally courteous, helpful and warm.) Perhaps it was because we could communicate easily, or perhaps the English are not as stuffy and reserved as we expected. In the White Horse pub, Eleanor and I met a charming Scotchman, who INSISTED on our joining his dinner party. The evening ended with coffee at his attractive apartment near our hotel.

A helping hand...

The English constantly went out of their way to guide us to a subway or theater. Many people in other countries also did this and we were impressed with Europeans' friendliness.

To my knowledge, no one on our tour had anything stolen or were victims of dishonesty. This excludes taxi drivers in almost every country, who seem to consider travelers as "fair game." Some Paris and Roman night clubs seemed like gyp operations.

Shopping in Europe is certainly no gyp. Some of the values are wonderful. Tweeds and clothing in London... beads and glassware in Venice... beautiful leather and straw in Florence... fabulous Spagnoli wool suits in Italy... silver and sweaters in Copenhagen... soft leather shoes and gloves in Rome... and, of course, watches in Switzerland, perfumes in Paris and local handicrafts in each country.

Europe is like Hong Kong. You simply go broke saving money.

You can't afford NOT to buy that new suit even though you've spent much more than you planned.

And everytime you wear that suit you'll think of Rome or London. And that is a plus of Europe.

Letters to The Editor

In states where only property owners could vote, the normal requirement for such bonds is a simple majority.

During the past 70 years the ownership picture has changed materially. In 1890 only 47.8 per cent of occupied dwelling units were owner-occupied; thus the majority were tenant-occupied. By 1956 official figures were 60.4 per cent owner-occupied. The 1960 census shows an even higher figure.

In Contra Costa the 1960 Census shows approximately 66 per cent of the dwelling units owner-occupied.

Thus, it appears that with the passage of years the rational on which the two-thirds requirement was established may no longer be valid. The legislative action permitting the transit bonds to be approved by a 60 per cent majority is a reflection of this changed condition.

The second point relates to leasing. If the County is providing a service to the residents and the space requirements of this service increase as the county grows there would appear to be an implied requirement that space be provided. I think this generalization can be accepted without getting into specific arguments as to whether certain departments have too much or too little space.

Forgetting, for the moment, strictly legal factors and looking at the reasoning underlying the legal factors, it appears that the growth of county functions require increasingly specialized buildings. These can usually be provided only by bond-supported construction (especially such buildings as court houses, jails, schools) or long-term leases. To obtain occupancy on leases as reasonably annual costs requires leases approaching the duration that warrant including a purchase option.

At the same time, the percentage of eligible voters who are property owners is constantly increasing (nationally from 28 per cent to over 60 per cent) and so the requirement for 2/3 bond approval is less soundly reasoned.

The answer to the problem seems to lie in a new analysis of the problem rather than legal fights. Once the basic problem has been re-studied and appropriate legislation or constitutional amendment adopted, we can then approach specific acts upon a "legal" basis with confidence the "legal" answer and the "right" answer will be the same.

This situation has been much more apparent to people as the maximum speed limit has been increased over the years from 40 to 45 to 55 to 65; it is somewhat less apparent on bond issues where most people are not aware of why the original two-thirds requirement was established.

Maryhelen Spragens Is Mrs. Vincent

The former Maryhelen Spragens was a beautiful blonde bride recently. Daughter of the Robert Mitchell Spragens of Lafayette, Maryhelen became Mrs. Rex Morton at a formal 2 o'clock service at the Lafayette Community Methodist Church.

The Rev. George E. Berry performed the nuptials at an altar flanked by candleabra and arrangements of white gladioli and stock.

Maryhelen's gown was embroidered white silk organza over taffeta. Designed by her mother, it had an ankle-length bell skirt and elbow-length sleeves.

The short illusion veil was held by a crown of silk organza, trimmed with pearls and silk organza roses. It was designed by Maryhelen's sister, Mrs. Don Korner.

Mrs. Korner was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jack Mead, Lafayette; Bonnie Thomson, Inglewood; and DiAnne Looney, Downey.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne R. Vincent of San Luis Obispo.

His best man was Donald Cooper of San Luis Obispo. His brother, Roger Vincent, Gerald Bucy and John Harrington III, were ushers.

Soloists were Miss Gabrielle Batchelder of Lafayette and Gerald Bucy. Miss Batchelder sang "Why Do I Love You," and Bucy sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Steven Spragens, 10-year-old brother of the bride, attended the guest book.

Flower girls were Debbie and Karen Fleming, cousins of the bride.

Vernon Vincent, four-year-old brother of the groom, was ring bearer.

Maryhelen is a graduate of Acalanes High School and will start her second year at California State Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo in the fall. She had a 3.2 grade average last semester.

Rex will start his third year at Cal Poly in the fall.

After a reception at the Spragens' home for relatives, the newlyweds left for a Carmel honeymoon.

Women Voters Hear Of National Service

Mrs. Paul Holmer of Kent Woodlands in Marin County addressed the League of Women Voters of Concord-Diablo Valley on a recent Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Keating, Albo Court, Orinda.

She spoke with contagious enthusiasm of her service on the National Board of Directors in Washington, D.C.

She emphasized the work done by the Overseas Education Fund in helping women from all over the world, particularly in Latin America, to become politically effective.

She told how the state department frequently calls on the League of Women Voters. They entertain visitors from the many newly independent countries so that the visitors can see a good example of democracy in action.

Mrs. Holmer reported that recently a group of men from the Congo expressed a desire to visit a state legislature. The State Department called on the league's national office for help.

A nearby Maryland League had enough members who spoke French to provide a conducted tour through the Maryland Legislature. She explained how the national board members are called upon to testify before Congressional committees and how they have at hand reports from the local leagues all over the country and their views on the items the league has been studying.

Mrs. Walter Schamel, president of the local league, introduced Mrs. Holmer. Mrs. Jerome Trowe, valley vice-president and Mrs. David Ganssle, state voter's service chairman, both from Stockton, and Mrs. Charles Engstrom of the state organizer committee from Marysville, who were also honored guests.

Past presidents of the Concord-Diablo Valley League who served as hostesses at the dessert were Mrs. Ray Long of Concord; Mrs. John Selley and Mrs. William Ross of Walnut Creek; and Mrs. Campbell Funk of Danville.

The league will not meet again until September. A series of coffees will be organized by Mrs. Ludwig Reis, membership chairman, to introduce new members.

Anyone living in Concord, Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Alamo or Danville who wants to inquire about the league is invited to call Mrs. Reis, 934-3541.

Son Is Welcomed

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Moylan announced the birth of a baby boy, recently. David John is the young man's name.

He is the brother of Tracey, 1 year.

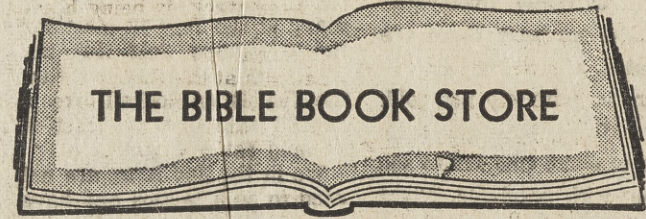

His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Jack Moylan, 25 El Gavi-lan, Orinda.

As he is in Tokyo on duty with the Navy, Henry has not yet seen his son.

Soroptimists Meet

Contra Costa Soroptimists were among those who literally came from four corners of the earth to attend their group's recent convention in San Francisco. Soroptimists is one of the world's leading service clubs for executive women.

Among the thousands of Soroptimist delegates and members who gathered for business sessions and social affairs at the San Francisco Masonic Temple and the Hotel Fairmont headquarters for the 17th Biennial Convention of the Soroptimist Federation of the Americas, were 17 members of a club chartered in Tokyo, Japan, in July of 1960, and Soroptimists from Mexico, Brazil, Panama, Peru, Costa Rica, Canada, and each of the 50 states.

Among those representing Soroptimist Club of Concord, either as convention participants, delegates or spectators, were Mildred Myers, district I director; Dr. Yoshiye Togasaki of Lafayette, newly installed president (delegate); Wahnetta Alpers, vice-president; Jessie Harris and Evalyn Witherwax, recording and corresponding secretaries; Martha Thompson, Dorothy Allen, Mary Brown, Margaret Caudel, Virginia MacFarlane, Wilma Mitchell, Peggy Weede, Bessie Beede, Opal Seaward, Betty Minster and Agnes Merz.

Among the outstanding speakers during the week-long affair were Elisabeth Hoeter of Switzerland, president of the Soroptimist International Association; Pauline Frederick, United Nations correspondent who spoke on "New Dimensions in World Affairs"; Lucille Allen, dean of Women at Stanford University; Lorin F. Wheelwright, editor of the American Soroptimist, and Charles Vetter Jr., training officer for the United Nations Information Agency.

Highlighting the various luncheon and banquet sessions was the Friday evening banquet presided over by Mary Lorentzen Moser of Lafayette, governor of Southwestern Region, the hostess region for the parley.

Dora Lewis of New York, outgoing president of the Federation, and International President Elisabeth Hoeter conducted the impressive rites which seated new Federation officers.

Mrs. Virginia Sink, an engineer from Detroit, Mich., was installed as president; Betty Beck Prosser, operations manager of Pan Pacific Auditorium, Los Angeles, first vice-president elect; Borghild Helgesen, secretary of the State Board of Education in Olympia, Wash., second vice-president; Ethel Lord, director of Home Service, Summit, N.J., third vice-president; Kathleen Sievers, accountant, Palo Alto, secretary; Nora M. Partridge, accountant, London, Ontario, Canada, treasurer.

Chosen from a wide field of candidates in the Western Hemisphere for Soroptimist Foundation Awards of $2500 each were Sandra Jean Markham of Crescent City, and Mary Julia Longenberger of Elmira, N.Y.

MR. AND MRS. FLOYD A. HOISINGTON

Barbee Lee White Is Mrs. Floyd Hoisington

Edward E. White, of Alamo, gave his daughter in marriage recently. The former Barbee Lee White became Mrs. Floyd A. Hoisington at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The formal ceremony, conducted by Howard Downs, High Priest, was a beautiful 8 p.m. rite.

Barbee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. White, 43 Barbee Lane, Alamo.

Floyd is the son of Mrs. Margaret Hoisington of Belding, Mich.

As she walked down the aisle on her father's arm, Barbee was radiant in a peau de soie gown with chapel train. Imported French lace trimmed the neck and shoulderlines with lace medallions hand sewn on the gown.

A Juliette net veil was held in place by a crown of stephanos.

Barbee carried a lovely white bridal bouquet of carnations and a removable corsage in center.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Marlene Pettie.

Bridesmaids were Judy Miller, Judy Hersey and Zeanne White. (Zeanne, the bride's sister, was a junior bridesmaid.)

The attendants wore pink chiffon with deeper pink sashes. The honor attendants' color scheme was reversed. Their flowers were all alike—white carnations.

Janelle Walder and Laurie Fox were flower girls. Their dresses were floor length white nylon. They carried net and lace flower baskets with rose petals.

Best man was Robert Thomas. Ushers were Terry White, the bride's brother, and Jay Murphy.

Ringbearer was Larry Eichnor.

After a reception at the church, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to the Tahoe area and Sierra City.

Art and Fashions to Be August Fare at Terrace

An art exhibit plus showings of fashions for "ladies of every age" will enhance the calendar of the Therapy Center Terrace during the first part of August.

The works of Florence Harrison Nesbit of Berkeley will be exhibited at the tearoom during the entire month. Mrs. Nesbit, who has had many showings on the Pacific Coast, will display some of her prize winning watercolors and case-ins.

"Back to school in style" will be the theme of the Junior fashion luncheon on Saturday, August 11.

Three age groups, pre-teen, junior high, and high school, will model fashions from Jean Harris' Kiddie Corner and Casual Corner in Walnut Creek.

Junior styles for fall will be shown at noon and again at 1 p.m.

Two special door prizes will be given to lucky young guests at this luncheon.

"Fashions with a flair" from Maciel's of Lafayette and Orinda will be featured at the Terrace on Monday at noon and again at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Edward Thomas of Orinda will select and model new fall casual wear. Mrs. David Coleman of Orinda, a member of the Tanager Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will also display fashions.

The air-conditioned tearoom, at 1475 East Newell Avenue in Walnut Creek, is open daily, except Sunday.

Gourmet luncheons are served from noon until 2 p.m., and coffee and hot rolls are served from 10 a.m.

Reservations are not necessary at the Terrace, but they are advisable for the fashion-luncheons. They may be obtained by calling 5-0121.

All proceeds from the Terrace benefit the rehabilitation programs for the handicapped of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Garry Wayne Smith Claims Bride

Bride of Garry Wayne Smith of the University of Denver staff is Jeanneva O'Higgins, daughter of the Hewlett O'Higgins of Soquel.

He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Smith of Alamo.

A reception at the Marines Memorial Club followed the wedding recently at Swedenborg Church in San Francisco.

Beer Garden Orinda Branch AAUW Invites New Members

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Gompertz were co-hosts recently with Dr. and Mrs. John Gompertz at the family's traditional "Beer Garden Party" on the tennis courts of the latter's Orinda home.

Rev. and Mrs. Gompertz, of Fairfax, were honor guests at the soiree three years ago. Honored at the party this year were two sets of newlyweds: the John Huntingtons (Peggy Gompertz) and the Edward B. Downers III, (Beverly Brown) of Ross.

The decor for the beer party included red and white checkered tablecloths and colorful pennants.

Additional parking space was made available by the neighboring Malcom Lambs, who opened their parking area and orchard to guests.

Guests included friends of Judy Gompertz, who will continue her studies in medicine this fall at San Francisco. She was recently awarded a scholarship by the University of California, Berkeley, for her brilliant academic record.

Hillary File, of England, son of friends of the Kirk Underhills, just returned from Europe, was among the young set who attended.

Mrs. MacDonald Named Chairman 'Handicap Day'

Mrs. James MacDonald, 9 Las Aromas, Orinda, has been named general chairman of the Easter Seal Society's "Handicap Day" party at Golden Gate Fields on Wednesday, September 12, 1962.

The gala event, first party of the fall racing season at the Albany track, is being held to raise funds to aid crippled children and adults who are patients at the Easter Seal Society's Rehabilitation Center in Oakland.

At the center, physically handicapped men, women and children receive physical and occupational therapy, braces, wheelchairs, vocational counseling and other types of assistance, regardless of the causes of their disabilities or whether they can pay for treatment or not.

Mrs. MacDonald said a 10-dollar donation to the Easter Seal Society entitles the giver to a ticket for free parking, Turf Club admission, luncheon, the fashion show (which will be presented during the luncheon) and racing.

She said cocktails will be served from 11:30 on, luncheon at noon, and post time is 1 p.m.

Town & Country Women's Club Pool Party

Two visitors from Boston recently enjoyed a gala California afternoon of swimming and bridge at the poolside home of Mrs. George Bruno on Old Jonas Hill Road, Lafayette.

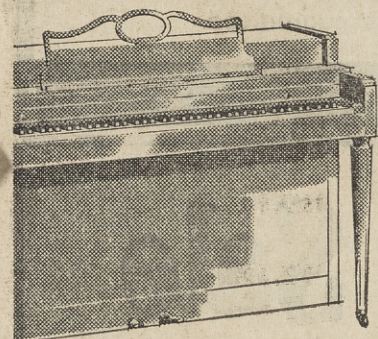

The Misses Patricia Kane and Helen Fitzgerald, guests of Mrs. John Brentlinger, joined thirty members of the Town and Country Women's Club at their regular monthly meeting.

Coffee and dessert were served by the Meses. Robert Treter, D. W. Bates, and Robert Arne.

A short business meeting was held. Mrs. Alan Day presented plans for a luau to be held at the Walnut Hills Country Club in September.

PAMELA SMITH of Orinda became the bride of Richard W. Rees of Oakland at an informal 4 p.m. ceremony recently. Nuptials were conducted by the Rev. Chauncey Blossom of Orinda Community Church at the home of the Lew Dotys, 10 La Cresta Road, Orinda. After a La Paz, Mexico, honeymoon, the newlyweds will make their home in London, England.

Acalanes Student Lives On 'Riviera of Turkey'

Cathy lives in Kadikoy, the "Riviera of Turkey" on the Sea of Marmora, only a few miles from Istanbul. Her Turkish father, an insurance broker, and her mother and sister live in an apartment.

This has been a part of the pleasant life of Cathy Brinckerhoff, an American Field Service exchange student from Acalanes High School, living in Turkey this summer.

In the four weeks she has been there she has already made many friends. She has traveled up the Bosphorus with her "family" and visited a Turkish castle.

At the same time, she was able to see the big net the Turks stretch across the straits to keep the Russian submarines inside the Black Sea.

The Turks are very interested in America and have adopted many American things.

They are particularly enthusiastic about our movies, rock-and-roll music, and shoes.

Although beggars are still a common sight along the streets, much is being done to alleviate the situation. When she returns to Lafayette in September, Cathy hopes to help Americans understand their Turkish friends, and appreciate their own America by telling them what she has learned on her summer abroad.

Swimming and sunbathing in the morning, sleeping through the afternoon, and listening to singers at a nearby country club in the evening.

Deer Hunting Looks OK

Hunting & Fishing

'62 Deer Hunting Looks Good for Early Season

Hunter success in California's 1962 early deer season which opens tomorrow, should be good, reports the Department of Fish and Game. Field checks indicate that most areas should yield an average to better-than-average number of bucks. Deer are generally in good to excellent condition.

Hot weather, high fire hazard, and access to deer ranges on private lands will be the hunters' greatest problems again this year, says the DFG.

Bag limit is two bucks, forked horn or better in the early season area which, in general, covers the coastal ranges from southern Humboldt County to northern San Diego County.

Following are area-by-area hunting prospects reported by wardens and game managers of the Department of Fish and Game:

HUMBOLDT'S hunting area is largely privately owned. Free public access is provided by seven miles of road constructed by the Department and Humboldt County into the Kings Peak area west of Garberville and north of Shelter Cove.

Deer will be found in thickets on the steep north slopes throughout the area during the daytime. Deer are in air condition with water sources dwindling and forage in short supply, however, this season should compare favorably with the record buck kill set in 1961. Antlers are still in the velvet.

MENDOCINO deer kills have been well above normal for the past two seasons. Deer are in good condition, well scattered throughout the county. Fire hazard is extreme.

About 85 per cent of the range is on private lands. Mendocino National Forest and Jackson State Forest are open to the public, but local inquiry is advised regarding hunting on private lands within the National Forest, closed areas around Parlin Fork and Chamberlain Creek Conservation Camps, and the Mendocino Woodlands Recreation Area in Jackson State Forest.

LAKE'S good fawn crop of 1960, coupled with available three- and four-year-old deer should produce a 1962 kill higher than last year's take of 1763 which was average.

During the early part of the season bucks in high mountains will be in velvet, those in low country should have hard antlers. Mendocino National Forest, the Cow Mountain hunting areas west of Lakeport, and Boggs Mountain State Forest south of Clear Lake are open to the public. Hunters are cautioned to stay out of State Game Refuge 2-A in Hull Mountain area. Deer are scattered, in good condition. Fire hazard high.

COLUSA AND GLENN counties buck kills should be above average with deer scattered throughout the area where food and water are available.

Best areas for the unattached hunter will be Goat Mountain Pacific Ridge, Snow Mountain Board Camp Ridge and Walker Ridge. Only the southwest corner of Glenn County is included in the early season. Government land is open.

Private land is posted and written permission is required to hunt on it. Bucks are in good condition with hard antlers at low elevations, in velvet at high elevations.

IN NAPA bucks appear plentiful, in good condition, most in velvet, scattered throughout the area. The kill may be below last year's above-average 1356. Water shortage caused hoof rot and a die-off in the eastern part of the county in 1961.

Mostly private land, closely patrolled. Some public land open, including Hunting Creek area above Knoxville, but unattached hunters should make local inquiry to avoid trespass. Fire hazard critical.

SOLANO AND YOLO buck kills should be about the same as last year with deer in good condition and fawn survival and buck carry over fair. A loss of deer occurred in western Yolo County because of hoof rot and depredation removals.

Most lands are in private ownership with only accessible areas to unattached hunters in Yolo County being Fiske Creek and Rumsey Mountain. Fire hazard is high.

BAY AREA Sonoma, Marin hunting will be on private lands. Buck kill expected to be as good as or better than last year's above-normal kill for both counties. Deer in good condition, scattered. Fire hazard high.

Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo deer ranges are on private lands. Buck kill expected to be somewhat below last year in all three counties because of die off due to poor range conditions. Monterey deer are in good condition due to this year's improved feed, but buck kill may be below 1961.

There are 300,000 acres available to unattached hunters in Monterey division of Los Padres forest, but a permit is required. Permits are available through the U.S. Forest Service, Fire danger high.

San Luis Obispo vicinity has about half of Los Padres forestations in fall and winter of 1961.

SANTA CLARA, Santa Cruz, San Benito hunting will be on private lands except New Idria area of San Benito County. Deer kill expected to be below that of last year in all three counties. Fire hazard high.

open to hunting without permit, the other half only by permit. Remainder of county is private property, mostly posted against trespass.

Buck kill expected to be about the same as or somewhat lower than last year's 1823 which was about average. Deer in good condition. Fire danger extreme.

WESTERN SAN JOAQUIN deer range is all private land and hunting is by permission only. Deer are in good condition with feed and water best in three years. Most bucks are in velvet. Best areas will include Upper West Branch, Buzzards Roosts and Eagle Mountain.

Western Stanislaus and Merced deer habitat is practically all privately owned.

Deer numbers are down somewhat from last year, but water and forage conditions have improved and the condition of the deer should be fair to good.

WESTERN FRESNO and Kings has a large percentage of its deer hunting area on private land. Most private roads will be locked.

The largest block of public land is in the New Idria area along the Fresno and San Benito County line. Many of the back country roads are accessible only to four-wheel drive vehicles.

Fewer deer were taken last year and deer numbers are apparently down. Hunters will concentrate in the New Idria area and the hunter success will be relatively low. Forage and water conditions are better than last year and condition of the

Sportsmen Aid Youth

Expert rifle instruction is being offered to interested youngsters by the United Sportsmen, Inc.

The sportsmen, an organization made up of four local clubs, has opened a range located on the north side of Highway 4, just east of Concord Naval Ammunition Depot and west of the Willow Pass intersection, to youthful riflemen.

A 50-cent charge will allow any youngster with his own equipment to use the range each Saturday and Sunday, all day from 10 a.m. during the summer months.

The range is open from 6 p.m. until dark on Thursday and Friday evenings. During this time a running deer target will be available.

The program is under the joint sponsorship of the Baypoint Rod and Gun, Concord Sportsmen, Walnut Creek Sportsmen, Diablo Rod and Gun.

Qualified instructors will be present when the range is open. A qualified national rifle instructor will be at the range during the weekend.

Local Swimmers Hold Their Own In Synchro Meet

Contra Costa County girls held their own against the leading competitors of the nation in the National AAU women's synchronized swimming meet, July 18-20, at Foothill College, Los Altos.

The synchronized swimming meet attracted contestants from 26 states and a duet from Canada.

"The Jewel of Persia," in the solo division, won Diane Howell of Danville seventh place.

Winners of the over-all championship, the San Francisco Marionettes, edged out the Athens Water Folies of Oakland with a 106.550 to 111.538 win.

Local girls who were among the leading contenders on the Athens Club team were: Judy and Linda McFadden, Kim Welshon, Diane Herman. High scorers on the Howell Swim Club are: Diane Howell, Carolyn Deardorff, Cathy Craig and Denise Land.

Judy and Linda McFadden were awarded second place in the team division.

A promising prospect for future national contention was the newly formed Aquadevils. Members of the new team are: Sharon Jolly, Dorothea Sollenberger, Yvonne Henry, Melinda Sellers, Alice Ann Walker and Kathy Knibbe.

Helm's Hall of Fame awards were presented to two local girls, Janet Tirrell and Sue Oldham, for records of meet wins for the years 1953-60.

The Far Western Women's AAU will hold a meet in Paso Robles, August 25.

Women Golfers Stage Tourney

Mrs. Z. Bogert won last Wednesday's Tilden Park Women's Golf Club flag tournament with an 83-13-70 score.

Also in class A were runners-up Mrs. W. Jenkins, 86-15-71; Mrs. W. J. Clough, 91-20-71 and Mrs. J. C. Guffy, 88-16-72.

Winner in class B, Mrs. L. R. Wilson, 99-24-75 was trailed by Mrs. D. Hearty, 104-26-78; Mrs. W. B. Adams, 106-27-79 and Mrs. J. Otvos, 109-28-81.

Deer should be fair to good. Water is scarce and hunters should be equipped with plenty of water. Roads will be dusty and the fire hazard high.

WESTERN KERN County's Los Padres National Forest will be open to the general public. The San Emidio Ranch, operated as a deer co-operative hunting area in previous years, will not be operated by the Department of Fish and Game.

Food and water conditions remain about the same and the outlook for success can be rated about the same as last year. Most campsites will be dry with no available water.

Win for Orinda Team Beefs Up Tennis Lead

The Orinda tennis team held a strong first-place position in the Contra Costa Junior Tennis League when they emerged as victors in a meet at Danville, 7-5 and 8-4.

Orinda led in the boys' league with a score of 38, nine points above second-place Danville. In the girls' league the Orinda girls held a comfortable lead, 50 points, to Danville's 38 and Pleasant Hill's 29. Stepping out with 88 in the combined league, the Orinda team led, Danville 67, Pleasant Hill 56, Lafayette 47 and Sleepy Hollow 65.

Lafayette's meet with the Pleasant Hill team ended with a tie score 6-6 and later with a 7-5 win.

Walnut Creek's boys defeated the Sleepy Hollow team, 7-5.

Softball Play Opens in WC's 12-Team League
Play in the Walnut Creek Adult Softball League opened Monday night.

WCMA and Highland Liquors posted wins in the first evening's action, while Norm Robinson Chevron and Danville Merchants won on Tuesday night.

Doubleheaders are played at 7 and 9 p.m. every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at City Park in Walnut Creek's Civic Center.

Twelve teams will play an 11-game schedule, with the top four meeting in a championship play-off. The two finalists will receive trophies from the City of Walnut Creek.

REGULAR season play does not end until October 1.

Highland Liquors, last year's league champions, opened with an impressive 3-1-3 romp over Caldecott Tunnel, a new entry. WCMA, which tied Highland for first place in the regular season, then lost in the championship game of the playoffs, defeated the Lions Club, 10-5.

The two teams will be meeting in a rematch of their championship game Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Norm Robinson, a new entry this season, defeated the Optimist Club, 14-11.

The Danville Merchants, another new entry, defeated the Kiwanis Club, 17-4.

Mrs. Cavagnaro takes her grandson, Donald, on a final tour around soon-to-be-flooded Camanche.

84-year Camanche resident,
Nettie Cavagnaro, says:

"Camanche can never be a ghost town"

A town's a precious thing.
We wish we could provide water for you and your children without flooding Mrs. Cavagnaro's home town. But we can't, and still build a reservoir.
Camanche Dam and Reservoir, essential to your $283-million Water Development Program, mean that Camanche must disappear. But, as Mrs. Cavagnaro says, it will never be a ghost town.
We hope you'll remember the people of Camanche and their sacrifice for your future.

Lafayette Teams Wind Up Season

The dust finally settled on the season-long "donnybrook" that has been the LYA baseball season, and from the struggle, four new champions have emerged.

Lafayette Toyland, after leading all the way, has been crowned the winner of the Pony League.

In the Major League, Sports & Games grabbed the pennant, after successfully beating back other would-be title claimants.

In the National League Minors, Lafayette Lions took top honors, in what was probably the tightest race of any of the leagues.

Gaston's wrapped up the top spot in the American League Minors with a bulge of three games, the biggest spread any of the winners enjoyed.

AMERICAN MINORS
Gaston's rolled to a 11-0 win over Dave's Nursery and edged by Lafayette Pharmacy to "breeze" to the league championship by three full games.

Sports & Games picked up a pair to end up in second place. They rolled up a 25-3 score in defeating Lafayette Pharmacy.

They then topped that with a 26-8 count over Jacuzzi. Bill Tourellotti tagged a grand slam homer to highlight the contest.

Jacuzzi had started the week off with a 4-3 nod over Campana Music to assure them of a .500 season.

NATIONAL MINORS
Lafayette Lions, scoring in the last inning, edged by Merit Tanks to wind up as league champions. Earlier, they had taken care of the Moraga Lions, posting a 6-1 win.

Merit Tanks had made a tremendous run for the top spot. After losing their first two games, they put a six-game winning streak together, before losing in the final outing. Their pitching staff of Ken Hansen, Steve Perrin, Art Symonds and Gary Gerber worked hard to keep enemy batters in check.

Alex Winters' grand slam homer also contributed to their success. Before the final game, they had dropped the Emporium 16-4, and put the final touches on Rheem's demise, 6-1.

a second place tie, knocking over Rheem Center, 7-6.

Links Appliance got a split on the week sneaking by the Moraga Lions, 7-6. They were then topped by Lincoln Development, 5-1. Links led going into the bottom of the fifth inning when the roof fell in, in the form of a grand slam homer by Gary Walkup of Lincoln Development.

MAJOR LEAGUE

A determined stretch drive that produced three wins in the final week of play, wrapped up championship honors for the Sports & Games entry. Sports & Games got off on the right foot for the week when Jeff Brovowiak hurled a no-hitter in downing Campana Music, 3-2.

Following this success, Jim Lavick limited American National Insurance to a single hit, as Sports & Games posted a 10-1 triumph.

They then closed their season with a 3-2 squeaker over Rheem. Trailing 3-0 going into the last inning, Rheem rallied to score two runs. However, their effort fell short when Sports & Games managed to stifle the Rheem uprising, but not before they had loaded the bases.

Jacuzzi made a good run for the top spot. They won a cliff-hanger from American National Insurance, 5-4, scoring two runs in the last inning. They had things a little easier in downing Orchard Nursery, 10-1.

MERIT TANKS won two games in the final week to move into the second place spot. They squeezed by Moraga Lions, 7-6. Then, in an extra inning game that went seven innings, they prevailed over Lafayette Rental & Hardware, 3-2.

Rheem, although losing a close one to Sports & Games, picked up two wins on the week. They won 3-1 over Gaston's early in the week, and then picked a 7-4 nod over Lafayette Pharmacy.

Lafayette Pharmacy was able to salvage one win during the week and closed out their season on a positive note, rolling to a 15-2 win over American National Insurance.

Jeff Pickett threw a one-hitter for Lafayette Dime and Dollar as they shut out Links Appliances, 6-0. Links Appliances then came back to top Lafayette Lions 8-5.

LYA III started the week off with a 13-6 decision over LaFiesta Barbers. However, their title aspirations were dealt a fatal blow when the Berkeley Farms contingent nipped them, 2-1. Although they were able to knock off Lafayette Toyland 3-2 in the last game, they couldn't make up the ground they had lost.

Lafayette Toyland took the measure of the Emporium, 5-3, during the week.

The Emporium wound up their season on a winning note with a 3-1 victory over the LaFiesta Barbers.

Bob Klitgaard was on the mound for Berkeley Farms as they shook up the LYA III team, 2-1.

Another 'Player' Added To Hancock Household

By HEC HANCOCK

Last weekend may have marked the end of the season for most of the players and managers in the Lafayette and Walnut Creek Junior Baseball programs, but it marked the beginning for another "player."

Mrs. Hancock last Saturday evening presented the ol' coach with his fourth little leaguer (nary a girl). As a matter of fact, the event wasn't scheduled until September, and the little guy caught us off base without a name.

The real significance of this 4-pound-14-ounce "tiger" is that it now appears that I'll be in kid baseball so long I'll make Amos Alonzo Stagg, the Grand Old Man, look like a boy scout.

Some of the kids on the first ball club I coached may have kids of their own by the time I call it quits. That's a sobering thought, if I ever had one.

George Colburn, manager of the champion Cubs of the Optimist League, came up with a novel "old timers" game this week.

Tuesday evening, the 1961 Cubs George coached, augmented by five other graduates of the 13-year-old league last year, tangled with the current Cub aggregation he also coaches.

Scoring four runs in the first inning, the 1962 Cubs, with Bob Loe and Dan Fynn handling the pitching chores, managed to hang on for a 4-3 win. Chuck Budde's bases-loaded single was the big blow.

Members of the 1961 Cub varsity were Rick Arnold, Gene Blazick, Randy Morris, Roger Woods, Tom Kline, Jack Rosenquist, Bill Kreitz and Doug Craig. This group was augmented by Denney Tierney, Bob Buck, Frank Jason, Tim Haentjens and Mike Odell.

Cuddly Fran Morris came out of "retirement" to ump the five-inning game, thereby dispelling ugly rumors of failing eyesight.

In the National League Minors of the LYA, the Merit Tank entry, coached by Pete Parise, made a strong run for the No. 1 spot. After losing their first two games of the season, they put six consecutive wins together. One of the amazing things about the six wins was that during this stretch they committed only two errors. Those that know the caliber of baseball normally displayed in the nine and ten-year group can appreciate what a feat this is.

I've known clubs that committed more than two boo-boos before they even took the field!

Speaking of records, Ross Rowley, catcher for the Dodgers in the Walnut Creek Optimist League, has one that's pretty unique. Ross didn't strike out a single time during the season. How about that!

During the past few years, it appears that interest in the baseball programs begins to lag a little after mid-July. Possibly it might be a good idea to consider starting the season earlier, and winding things up just that much sooner. Actually, this could be done by merely shortening the practice season.

Since Lafayette, Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek have basically the same baseball programs, how about the three leagues getting together and making things completely uniform as far as age groups are concerned?

Then when the various league champions are decided, a local world series could be conducted to come up with an area champion. Such a competition would provide for considerable more interest by all concerned.

WC Leagues End; One Playoff Set

Except for a playoff tomorrow to determine the National League champion, the baseball wars of the Walnut Creek Junior League have subsided for another year.

Nearly 700 youngsters will put their dreams of diamond glory in mothballs until next year.

Almost 100 fathers who had served as managers and coaches will lend a hand to the accumulated yard work that has been semi-neglected for the past three months. The finishing touches have been applied to another season.

ONLY ONE TEAM of the 54 came through the season without losing a game. The Cubs of the Optimist League won nine games, but lost a chance for the perfect season when tied by the Reds in their ninth game.

In the Coast League, the A&W Root Beer entry won the championship with a fine record of eight victories, one loss and one tie. Diablos Cleaners nailed down honors in the International League, sustaining but one loss on their march to the top.

Jack and Bob's Meats will meet Barber Shop tomorrow at City Park, 1 p.m. to decide the issue in the National League.

The Cubs grabbed first place in the Optimist loop, and was the only unbeaten team in the program. Burton's Nursery topped the Western League.

In the American League, WCYAA and Central Firemen reign as co-champs, when a playoff proved unfeasible.

COAST LEAGUE

The Walnut Creek Sheet Metal club capped its late season surge with an upset victory over previously undefeated A&W Root Beer, 7-4. Jumping into the lead in the first round of the playoffs, the Sheet Metal team took over sole possession of second place behind A&W.

General Office and Walnut Creek Canning tangled in a wild and hectic struggle, with the issue still unresolved as a result of an 11-1 tie.

Davis Donuts ended their season on a winning note, rolling to a 19-3 win over Sports & Games. Eric Bowen was the winning pitcher and also hit a four-bagger to help his own cause. Eric Carr and Randy Lee also connected with round trippers for Davis group.

WITH JAY JOHNSON and Hank Loeser handling the pitching chores, Kiwanis topped Army Navy Surplus, 9-2. Gary Anderson, Kiwanis' infielder, turned in some sparkling defensive play.

Gil Ashcom Ramblers sped by the Reds with an 18-0 verdict. Bill Perkins led the Ramblers' attack. Kevin Odell, Mark Chapman and Bob Clark took care of the pitching responsibility.

The Air Force Falcons and Walnut Creek Elks, while not going anywhere in the standings, tangled in a see-saw battle that the Falcons finally won, 13-11. Wally Judd belted a homer with two aboard for the big blow for the Air Force.

Brown's Hobby Center knocked Stevenson's Electronics out of second place with a 9-5 win.

Sandra Joy picked up their second win of the campaign with a 10-9 cliff hanger over LoRay's. Sandra Joy, after a slow start began to jell, and managed to finish up the season with a win and a tie in their last two games.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE Diablos Cleaners edged by Bi-Rite in the final game of the season, 2-1, to wrap up league honors in the International loop. 1 p.m. at City Park to dissolve the tie for top honors.

Jack and Bob's Meats, after a scare from winless WCYAA, fought their way into the play-off with an 8-7 win.

Russ' Barber Shop earned their slot with a 6-2 triumph over Schroder Insurance. Pete Winslow, Russ' Barber catcher hit three for three for the evening. Rich Jacobson limited Schroders to five hits. Bill Wyman turned in a fine game with some sharp fielding. Tom Irvin came up with a clutch single when needed.

The Cubs. He also picked up them a .500 record for the season.

HENDRICKS topped Oakmont Memorial 15-5 in a replay of a previous game. David Lawrence continued his fine play, having belted a homer and a double in the previous game. Bob McCurdy was impressive on the mound for the winners. Stan Ford had a great day at the plate, picking up four hits in four appearances. Warren Hammett was the losing pitcher, but turned in a very creditable performance.

Sid's ended up at the .500 mark for the season by virtue of a 9-8 win over Hendricks. Ted Crawford limited the opposing batters to two hits, while hitting safely himself in each of his three trips to the plate. A bases-loaded double led to three of the five RBIs he gathered during the game. Dennis Gear turned in some flawless fielding and also contributed timely hitting.

Norm Robinson wound the season up winning a cliff hanger from Clifford Electric, 9-8. Jerry Aldridge, Mark Urhenholt each had three hits. Steve Flynn, Craig Turner and Steve Ross, all shone with their outstanding defensive play.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Both Russ' Barber Shop and Jack and Bob's Meats won their final league games, thus necessitating a playoff tomorrow at 1 p.m. at City Park to dissolve the tie for top honors.

Jack and Bob's Meats, after a scare from winless WCYAA, fought their way into the play-off with an 8-7 win.

Russ' Barber Shop earned their slot with a 6-2 triumph over Schroder Insurance. Pete Winslow, Russ' Barber catcher hit three for three for the evening. Rich Jacobson limited Schroders to five hits. Bill Wyman turned in a fine game with some sharp fielding. Tom Irvin came up with a clutch single when needed.

Mark Bowman was the winning hurler, giving up two hits. Rick Dawson had a good night with the bat, his double being the big blow.

OPTIMIST LEAGUE

The Reds rolled over the Braves 13-4 to pick up the second place spot in the league final standings when the Dodgers lost their finals.

The Cards, who after trouble in the early season getting a manager assigned to the club, finished with two wins in the final week—over the Pirates and Giants.

Steve Hart pitched both wins. Charley Loeser banded out three hits in the Giants' game and stood out with defensive play. Mark Speetzed, shortstop, came up with some fine glove work against the Giants.

THE CHAMPION Cubs scored a run in the bottom of the seventh to edge the Dodgers in a well-played game, 3-2, Saturday. Relief pitcher Buck Thompson walked four Cubs, three after two were out, to force home the winning tally.

Bob Lee gave up nine hits, but was tough in the clutch and went the distance on the mound for the Cubs. He also picked up two of the seven hits for his team. He batted in the first run with a long triple to the center-field fence, then scoring himself on John Templer's first of two hits. Rightfielder Drake Brees turned in some good plays for the Cubs. Roger Harris also had two hits for the Cubs.

Gerald Johnston had three hits for the Dodgers and Arnold Thornston was two for three.

WESTERN LEAGUE

Burton's Nursery clinched top spot in the Western Gold League with a 20-0 romp over the Bullets. Richie Stephenson gave up but a single hit on his way to a win. Ken Cochrane and Phil Burton, who had three hits for the evening, both hit triples. Steve Kerr turned in his usual fine performance behind the plate for Burton's.

Walnut Bowl had to score four runs in the last inning to squeeze by Marshall Realty, but settled for second place. Roy Jordan had 12 strikeouts and was the winning hurler. Norm Bowen struck out 15 while being charged with the loss.

Earlier, the Bullets had found their mark with a 3-1 win over Marshall's.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

The Central Firemen and WCYAA wound up as co-champs of the American League.

The Central Firemen with Mike Breuleux pitching and Pete Breuleux banging out a round-tripper got by Kavert Plumbing, 7-3. Then needing a win to wrap things up, were held to a tie by the Colts, 2-2. Bob Kreider turned in an excellent effort, striking out 16 enemy batters. Mel Cameron had three hits during the contest.

The Association earned their share of the tie downing the Colts, 7-1. Bradford was the winning hurler on a very fine effort. Richie Nye was charged with the loss. The Association then came on evil days as the Costello Laundry assumed the role of spoiler and pulled an upset off, defeating the title hungry WCYAA 4-3.

No AAU club swimmers will compete in the meet.

LYA-Sun to Co-Sponsor Swim Meet

Between 600 and 700 community pool and recreation swimmers are expected to compete in this year's Second Annual Swim Championships co-sponsored by the Lafayette Youth Association and The Sun News-papers.

The swim meet will be held on Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16. No AAU club swimmers will compete in the meet.

More than 20 teams are expected to enter in this year's championships, won last September by the Walnut Creek Recreation team.

ENTRY APPLICATION will be available soon, according to Dick Dobbins, LYA swim coach and co-ordinator of the meet. There is an entry fee of 50 cents per swimmer.

Each swimmer is allowed to compete in two individual events and on two relay teams. Current AAU rules will govern the meet.

Preliminary heats will get underway at 9 a.m. on both days with the finals starting one-half hour after the end of the heats. Medals will be awarded for first, second and third places in the individual events. Fourth and fifth place finishers will receive ribbons.

Medals will also be given to all members of the winning relay teams with ribbons awarded the other finalists.

PH Baseball Jr. Leaguers Stage Upset

The seventh week of the Pleasant Hill Junior baseball leagues rolled to an exciting start last week with an unexpected victory credited to a cellar position team in the California League. Du Mor Milk in the bottom position of the league upset first place Central Firemen.

Last Thursday Oak Park Signal held onto their hopes for first place position in the Pacific Coast League by a narrow margin as they tied Edmore Construction, 4-4.

Pitching duo, Dennis Reali and Glen Frenchin hurled a one-hitter game while teammate John Warburton singled twice for the Oak Park Signal club. The only hit of the game was received by Dan Christy of the first place hopefuls.

In last Thursday's American League action, Mel and Green Construction's 6-0 win over Sport Chalet placed them in a shaky first place position. The big gun for the winners was Dennis Green who pitched the shutout, striking out 10 batters. A double and single hit by Green and hits by Bob Donnelly sealed the fate of the Sports Chalet team. Bob Olsen and Paul Gaubaty singled twice for the losers.

Western League activities last Friday resulted in a run in the sixth inning allowing A and W Root Beer to squeeze by Pleasant Hill Nursery for a 4-3 victory. Ron Peterson, Bill Field and Bob Weirich belted two singles apiece for the winners. Three singles were accounted for by Clint Lukeworth of the Pleasant Hill Nursery team.

Hillsdale blasted their way last Friday, to a 10-2 victory over Irvin Deutscher. The win placed the Hillsdale team in a game and a half lead ahead of the Oakland Pressmen in the National League.

Pitcher for the winners, Pete Caruso, pitched a two-hitter and slugged two doubles and a single. Also belting hits for the Hillsdale team were Dave Walsh and Mark Layfield who singled twice. The only two hits for the losers were received by Tom Dundas and John Dotson.

The Walnut Creek Optimists, first-place hopefuls in the National League, defeated Owl Rexall 5-0 last Saturday. Jim Chaney slammed a triple and Norm Dedrick pitched a two-hitter for the winning team. Jim Belding and Pat Redmond received the only hits for Owl Rexall.

Last Saturday's upset in the California League occurred when the cellar team Du Mor Milk dumped first place Central Fire in an 11-4 victory.

A double and single hit apiece were belted by Vaughn Kilgore and Dick Wood for the winners. Rick Robinson doubled and Dan Hole and Al Bryant both singled twice for Du Mor Milk.

First place position was retained by Hillsdale in their shut-out victory against Walnut Creek Optimist, 5-0.

Hillsdale player Ron Rose's triple and two single hits by teammate Pete Caruso helped keep up the team's winning streak. Sparkplug of the game, pitcher Mark Perrin, pitched a two-hitter, fanned out 13 batters and hit a triple and a single to knock in four runs. Keith Harris and Jim Chaney received the only two hits for the Optimists.

TWELVE RUNS belted out in the fourth inning allowed L. V. Keller to coast to a 17-8 victory over Monument Bowl. Nine single hits were slugged by the winners, three by Ed Krakiza and two each for Dennis Lava-tiatta, Jim DeBeaumont and Doug Raskelley. Monument Bowl's Phil Matticola singled twice.

Oakland Pressmen's eighth win of the season was over Irvin Deutscher, 11-3. Big gun, Terry Hensen, hurled a one-hitter, 16-strikeout game. Hensen, the Pressmen's pitcher, also singled twice. Also singling twice for the winners were Steve McFarland and Lee Scarlett. Irvin Deutscher's Steve Olsen received the only hit for his team.

Smeco rolled into its eight-game winning streak with their 7-3 victory over Stevenson Electric. The fifth straight win in their season, Smeco's Tom Russell and Bill Hall singled twice.

Roger Bentler hit two singles for the losers.

Goods Worth $70 Million Exported by CC County

Contra Costa industries exported more than $70 million in manufactured goods during 1960, according to a U. S. Department of Commerce "Export Origin Study Report" for Contra Costa and Solano counties.

The total for the two counties comprising the old Sixth Congressional District was $72.7 million.

THE REPORT, according to J. M. Gill, president of the Contra Costa County Development Association, highlights the importance of world trade in the county's booming economy.

The report indicated that 26 industrial plants in the two counties exported more than $25,000 each during 1960. It asserted that the total number of manufacturing employees in 1958 was 28,173, and listed the major export commodities as petroleum and coal products, primary metals, chemicals and non-electrical machinery.

THE 26 CONTRA COSTA industries reported as exporting more than $25,000 a year employed a total of 14,864 workers and their exports represented more than six per cent of the firms' total value of shipments, the report said. It listed petroleum products exported from the county as more than $25 million, while chemicals and allied products totaled between $5 and $9.9 millions.

Agricultural exports for the two counties reached $9.4 million in the 1960-61 crop year, the report said. It listed included were $4.8 million for field crops, $3.1 million for fruits and nuts.

Oleanders Are Feast for Eyes --Not Tummies!

Oleanders, a feast for the eyes, are not a feast for the stomach!

Prolific bloomers in central Contra Costa County, gardeners are warned that oleanders are exceedingly poisonous when taken internally.

There are many cases on record of fatalities because of the direct or indirect consumption of Oleanander leaves and/or branches, according to botanical authorities at the University of California.

Cyclamen Make Good Potted Plant In, Out

Cyclamen are amazingly durable little gems. Potted plants which your nurseryman offers this month in full bloom are still apt to be in bloom next February and March. You can enjoy them indoors in the light of a window, or outdoors in a semi-shaded spot.

Treat them much as you would a tuberous begonia, top watering frequently and feeding every two or three weeks with liquid fish. The pots may be sunk in the ground intact and lifted again when tubers go dormant.

Your Garden

Small Trees Fit Nicely In Small Places

Drive through a new subdivision and the thing that strikes you first, if you are a gardener, is how different things look without trees. Not only the lack of them at streetside, but their absence in and about the garden gives a barren and unsettled look to any new neighborhood.

IF YOU LIVE in a newly developed area, your first thoughts should be directed toward "aging" it with the planting of trees. A community effort should be started to line the streets with them.

Friends and neighbors should be encouraged to plant them in their gardens. Trees will not only add substance, but it's an acknowledged fact that their presence adds to the value of property.

Indiscriminate tree planting, however, should be avoided at all costs. Shrinking lot sizes make careful selection more important, and a member of the California Association of Nurserymen should be consulted for his professional advice. One or two towering tree specimens will add interest to the skyline and enhance the beauty of any neighborhood. But too many can throw things out of proportion in a neighborhood of small lots. The average gardener today has to be content with modesty in his trees.

FORTUNATELY, there are plenty of excellent small trees for California gardens, and they will be of interest in old neighborhoods as well as new.

In selecting small trees, the gardener can lump them in three general classes: Those that produce foliage alone; those that flower, and those that produce ornamental fruit as well as flowers.

Beyond this, there are the deciduous and evergreen classifications, but this is really of less concern than you might think. Few gardeners buy a tree specifically because it is evergreen or vice versa.

A THING to remember when planting any tree is that it is not to be taken lightly, for you are planting for the future—not only your own future, but for that of generations to come. The average tree is apt to outlive you and your grandchildren, which prompts the question: How often does man have the chance to leave such a lasting mark on this earth?

Espaliered Fruit Trees Rewarding

Many home gardeners enjoy the exacting but rewarding art of the espalier. Fruit trees are often the subjects for espaliering.

It exposes a maximum of branch surface to the sun and therefore stimulates heavier flower and fruit production. Apples and pears top the list of favorites. Both bear their fruit on long-lived spurs; once the pattern is established you can concentrate on maintaining an attractive framework.

Apricots, cherries, and plums also take well to training. Because they are heavy when loaded with fruit, posts of galvanized pipe or sturdy wood and galvanized wire supports are necessary.

For the Birds...

Celestial Sierra Song

By BARBARA BEDAYN

SILENT AS a shadow the Hermit Thrush slips through the willow thicket, bill full of dry moss, the finishing touch for the carefully made nest low in our mountain hemlock. No one notices her.

The brown speckled breast breaks up the body pattern as she rests with nervously flicking wings and rising rust-red tail, in the gloom of the pine branches. Then she's gone.

But as evening comes we know the Hermit is here. Pure silver, flute-like notes cascade down the mountainside. This is no song we've heard from our wintering Hermits who stay in Contra Costa for the cold months. That soft, "Chuck, chuck," from the shadows is familiar.

WE'VE HEARD the cat-like distress call in our own dripping gardens all winter, but the ethereal melody of the Hermit Thrush summer song is as much a part of the Sierra as the grey granite, the grizzled marmot, the red fir shafts.

Early in the morning or late in the evening, when the lodgepole pines are mere dim shadows, those crystal clear notes rise and then fall in short bursts of pure music.

NO BIRD SONG is more melodious. The mockingbird's efforts seem raucous beside this heavenly music. Now sad, now exalted, the celestial song of the Hermit Thrush pours from the secret depths of the tall mountain pine.

Plant Sweet Pea

August is the month to start winter sweet peas, and you'll be picking their fragrant bouquets by Christmas if you set the seed now.

Best method calls for digging a deep trench and layering steer manure and compost at the bottom for the searching roots to seek out. Don't plant the seed in direct contact with this rich layer, however.

As the seedlings sprout, they should be protected at first from marauding birds, then supported by a trellis or string as they start to grow in earnest.

Magazine Rack

Do you have trouble keeping your magazines clean and handy? Build a narrow wall rack with shelves spaced so magazines can be placed upright. Use hemlock or Douglas fir and put narrow strip on shelf edge to hold in magazines.

If hubby snores... be patient. Although much is known about snoring, little can be done. But if hubby sleeps on his back and snores, you might tell him he looks so much nicer on his side or face down. This might help. At least if he's lying face down and snores... his snoring will be muffled somewhat.

Ammo Hearing Set

A public hearing on a proposed ordinance pertaining to the sale of ammunition to minors has been set by the county board of supervisors for August 30 at 10 a.m.

The ordinance would require parents' written permission for the sale of ammunition to children 16 years of age or under.

EASY DOES IT

Get home safely from your summer vacation. Don't exert yourself in ways you wouldn't during the 50 other weeks of the year, the Contra Costa County Heart Association advises.

Quentin Reynolds to Appear in The Sun

Quentin Reynolds, war correspondent and author, provides insights into the conversation-starting techniques of such notables as Mrs. Winston Churchill and Arlene Francis in his article, "Now You're Talking," in SUBURBIA TODAY in the August 10 issue of The Sun.

TINGLE

For a refreshing tingle on these hot summer days, chilled cologne, dabbed on the back of the neck and forearm is just the thing.

HERE COMES DADDY

What a homecoming. And part of the joy of it is the home itself... more than a house, but a way of life for the whole family. When you buy a home, make sure it's one that suits your family and your way of life. It's not always easy to find the one home that's "just right" for you, but a REALTOR can be a big help in a successful end to your home hunting.

Each member of the Contra Costa Board of Realtors listed below is both experienced and qualified to assist you in buying and selling real property. He is pledged to a code of ethics and justly proud of his professional reputation. Next time you buy or sell real estate, deal with a Realtor.

Pacific Festival Is Theme of Fair

General theme of the 1962 Contra Costa County Fair is "Pacific Festival" and already reports are filtering in that many of the county's exhibitors, chambers of commerce, local organizations, private clubs, and thousands of interested persons have accepted this theme as a welcome one.

Many of the commercial exhibitors have already made plans to fly exotic tropical flowers and display pieces for their own booth decorations.

Norman Sundborg, secretary-manager of the County Fair, says the fair personnel will be wearing Hawaiian muu-muu dresses and the men will sport the colorful flower prints that have made our 50th state so popular.

SEVERAL SOUTH Sea island performances will be part of this year's big fair, free, while a small charge will be required to view the famous Hawaiian Eye television stars, Connie Stevens and Robert Conrad, who will appear today for the 8 p.m. performance.

Along with the popular TV series stars to give authentic South Sea island music and dances will be the Moorea Drum Dancers of Tahiti.

They present a fast moving show with breathtaking barefoot fire walking; wild, rhythmic and primitive dances by brown-skinned Tahitian girls.

All fairgoers will be entertained nightly at 9 by the Regal Tahitians with their exotic dances and colorful costumes and music. Many of the county's residents have visited the South Sea island and will recall the relaxing qualities of the rhythmic music and swaying hula dancers.

On Thursday, Friday, Saturday nights a free dance will be held for all fairgoers in the Western Village . . . and, of course, plenty of South Sea island music there too.

The Soroptimist Club of Antioch, with Mrs. Ruth Cole as chairman, is sponsoring this year's search for the county's Fair Maid. Contestants will be judged strictly on the basis of beauty, poise and personality by a panel of qualified judges.

The winner will receive a cash award, a wardrobe, the coveted crown and title, and as the county's Fair Maid will represent Contra Costa County at the Maid of California contest at the State Fair on August 30.

Oil wells have been drilled on golf courses, beaches and movie lots, according to the National Automobile Club.

Photographers to Attend Conclave

Anyone interested in photography will be offered a rare opportunity to widen his photographic horizons and to improve his skills when the Photographic Society of America convenes in San Francisco August 14-18.

Registration is open for more than 60 lectures, demonstrations, and panel discussions and instructive travelogues to be held in meeting rooms of the Jack Tar Hotel and the nearby Scottish Rite Temple August 15-18.

WHILE SOME 3000 visitors are expected from many parts of the country, activities are not limited to members.

This comprehensive program of photographic guidance and instruction is an annual presentation of the Photographic Society of America, a world-wide organization, popularly known as "PSA."

Comprising over 10,000 members it is convening for the first time in San Francisco. Its membership is made up principally of amateur photographers, many of whom exhibit their pictures in photographic salons.

JOE MONROE, of Orinda, a free lance photographer for Life, Time, The Saturday Evening Post and Fortune, will speak Saturday, August 14, at 9 a.m. at the Scottish Rite Temple social hall.

The topic for his talk will be "Definitions, Comparisons and Evaluations as Seen by a Free Lancer."

Regular sessions of the convention will begin August 15 at 9 a.m. and will continue through Saturday afternoon.

Heading the list of more than 100 photographers from 15 states and two foreign countries scheduled to talk and answer questions are such notables as Look magazine staff photographer Earl Theisen, Fred Bondi, author of five books on color photography, and Don Nibelink, senior technical editor of Eastman Kodak publications and author of a "Complete Book of Lighting."

Registration fee for the entire program is $6 for both members and non-members of PSA, or $2.50 per day (excluding meals and transportation).

For full details, write to Registration Chairman, Miss Beryl C. Briggs, 125 South Hill Boulevard, San Francisco 6.

For the convenience of late registrants, the registration desk will be open at the Jack Tar Hotel all day Saturday and Sunday, August 11 and 12. However those interested are urged by Colonel James Ross, general chairman of the convention, to get their applications in as early as possible for seating capacity is limited.

Sun classifieds appear in five papers for one bargain price.

Self-Service Cleaners Comes to Walnut Creek

With the opening of a Norge Laundry and Cleaning Village here, local residents can now participate in the new trend to "Do-It-Yourself" dry cleaning, which has been sweeping the country.

Owners Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Hughes have gone all out to give Walnut Creek the most efficient Do-It-Yourself dry cleaning operation in the Bay Area.

THIS BEAUTIFUL new store, designed and engineered by the H. M. Kane Company of Belmont, and representing a $76,000 investment, is located at California and Newell, across from Loray's Super Market.

Each coin-operated dry cleaning machine is designed to clean up to eight pounds of dry cleaning, taking only about 45 minutes to do the job. The cost of this service will be $2 per load. A "load" might consist of 10

Nine magnificent areas in California now in private ownership but available for acquisition as park properties for use by 17,000,000 Californians will be lost during the next two years unless acquired within that time.

Another vital area for camping developments near the ocean will also be lost. The decision as to its purchase is dependent on legislative determination of price vs. utility. It is Dana Point, in Orange County, and the cost will be about $24,500 an acre for the bluff property, more than 200 acres are available.

BUT OF THE other nine properties there can be no question as to their beauty or desirability, according to the State Park Commission which has asked the governor and the legislature to provide funds for purchase during the next two fiscal years. The commission action was taken on motion of Harold Zellerbach, San Francisco.

"These nine areas are equal to many of our present state park areas, bits of grandeur which must be retained for us, our sons and our daughters," Zellerbach informed the commissioners. "There are some other areas remaining, not as critical in that it is not likely they will be lost in the next year or two, but which are also vital. Areas such as the Hoover ranch, the Big Sur project, Point Sal, are a few."

"THE FACT that Proposition 5 lost does not mean people do not want parks or that we do not have a trust to California. 1,600,000 Californians voted for parks, and their voice is not a small one. We on the commission have accepted a trust to retain a portion of California for all the people and we will be derelict in our duty if we do not move quickly, move effectively and with our fullest support make manifest the obvious to members of the legislature and to the people of California. These areas are needed now, and won't be here next time around," Zellerbach said.

The nine critical areas, detailed by Director Charles A. De Turk of the Department of Parks and Recreation and Chief Edward F. Dolder of the Division of Beaches and Parks are:

MONTANA DE ORO, a 5000-acre ranch in Southern California, just south of Morro Bay. The property involves some four miles of coastline, with beaches extending inland up to half a mile. Coastal hills rise from the benches. There are some wooded canyons.

San Bernardino Mountains, an 8000-acre potential center around Heart Bar Valley. About half the acreage is federal owned.

Cascade Lake adjoins Emerald Bay and D. L. Bliss State Park and is the last true bit of magnificence on the California side of Lake Tahoe still available for park purposes. Camping, fishing, swimming, boating, hiking, day use will all be possible in the gem next to another gem, Emerald Bay. About 500 acres.

TRINIDAD BEACH is on the northern coast of California, near the fishing community of Trinidad. Rugged, gorgeous, some 200 acres of seashore and upland are involved.

Bull Creek project involves continued acquisition of lands in the Bull Creek watershed so as not to lose the world's greatest forest, the Rockefeller Forest on Bull Creek itself.

Ohlsen Ranch in Sonoma County is roughly 11 miles of ocean paralleling the north-running Gualala River. Sheer, rugged, beautiful wonder, the area offers bountiful opportunity for all types of park use. 5000 acres.

WILDERNESS PARK is near Armstrong Redwoods State Park near Guerneville. This will enable expansion of camping; now overcrowded to the detriment of park users, into a splendid area typical of Russian River country.

Forrested, a running stream, lots of space in an otherwise crowded and traditional summer vacation area for Bay Area residents.

The final priority item is to provide funds for purchase of 12,000 acres annually which Bureau of Land Management will sell to a state for park purposes at $2.50 per acre.

Stanford Univ. Beckons Many Local Students

Among the students from central Contra Costa County who plan to enter Stanford University in the fall are the following, listed by name, address and name of parents:

Linda Lee Bridges, 3972 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridges; Barbara Ruth Dietz, 1107 Glenn Road, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. Dietz; Sidney Lee Hillyer, 1050 Manzan Place, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hillyer; Rosemary Ann Noisi, 11 Moraga Court, Orinda, Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Noisi.

Robert Michael Alexander, 1162 Glen Road, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Alexander; Robert Paul Benjamin, 2732 San Antonio Drive, Walnut Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Benjamin; Perry Clark Conner, Jr., 10 Arlene Lane, Walnut Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Clark Conner; Thomas Frederic Kelleway, 425 Lakewood Circle, Walnut Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Kelleway.

William Charles Miller, 3583 Boyer Circle, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Miller; Boardman Tenence Moore, 839 Topper Lane, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Boardman W. Moore; Jeffrey Hay Shurtleff, 790 Los Palos Manor, Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton L. Shurtleff; Peter Bills Stimpson, 20 Montecito Drive, Danville, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stimpson.

PAN PANIC

If grease in your frying pan catches fire, don't panic. Turn the gas off. Cover the pan or throw baking soda on the burning grease. Never use water on burning fat or oil.

State Veteran's Cemetery Appropriation Bills Are Viewed By Calif. Senator

A select group of veterans organization representatives yesterday attended a State Department of Veterans Affairs briefing on accomplishments, needs and problems and heard Department Director Joseph M. Farber propose that California maintain a state veterans cemetery.

Farber's proposal came near the conclusion of the special briefing in which he also reiterated his belief that California should establish a second home and hospital in Southern California and back the building of two more veterans administration hospitals in the state—one in each section of the state. The veterans also heard that the present Veterans Home in Napa County had been completed to 80 per cent of planned capacity, and that future expansion should be aimed at the addition of beds for convalescent and intermediate type care facilities.

In reviewing accomplishments of the last three years, Farber and his division chiefs pointed to the elimination of the backlog of veterans waiting home loans; the streamlining of the Division of Farm and Home Purchases; expansion of the educational assistance program; firm establishment of a claims and rights service; and equal insurance coverage for Cal-Vet loan holders regardless of war disability.

"We have sought to operate this department for the greatest good of all the veterans of California," said Farber. "And, by and large, I believe we have come a long way toward accomplishment of that goal."

Need for Sitters For Handicapped Asked by Society

To determine the extent of need for "baby sitting" services for handicapped children, the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults is making a survey within Contra Costa County organizations for parents of children with all types of handicapping conditions.

A questionnaire has been prepared requesting information on the frequency of needs for baby sitting services. The questionnaire also asks if there are other children in the family requiring care, if parents can provide transportation for baby sitters.

Mrs. Ardis Loonle, executive director of the Easter Seal Society of Contra Costa County, said that parents of handicapped children sacrifice many opportunities to attend meetings with other parents or to enjoy social evenings away from home because of difficulties in obtaining properly qualified care for the handicapped child in the family.

Montgomery Ward is slashing prices, effective this week, of 2000 items of staple and standard merchandise lines in the greatest anniversary bargain sale in its 90-year history of catalog selling.

In announcing cut prices in the company's 90th anniversary sale catalog now being mailed to five million families, Charles W. Wood, merchandising vice-president of Wards, said: "These bargains are made possible because our veteran buyers, for eight months, have concentrated their efforts on developing production and shipping schedules to give our customers extraordinary merchandise values at this time when real values are needed."

"These are times," Wood continued, "when consumers are seeking to stretch their dollars and these are times, as has happened throughout our 90-year history, when Wards has anticipated consumer needs and is ready to offer its merchandise at the reduced prices that will help consumers stretch their budget dollars."

Appropriation Bills Are Viewed By Calif. Senator

Senator Claire Engle (D-Calif.) said today that the rift between the House and Senate Appropriations Committees revolves around one question: Shall all appropriation bills originate in the House?

"The House says 'yes'—the Senate says 'no,'" Senator Engle said. "Ultimately I believe the Senate will begin to introduce some appropriations bills."

The conflict—manifested in the committees' inability even to agree on a room to meet for conferences—has tied up congressional government appropriations for the current fiscal year which has already begun.

SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE action, known as the "continuing resolution," has so far provided money for day-to-day operations of Federal departments and agencies.

Senator Engle said the conflict stems from the fact that the Constitution does not specify whether the House or the Senate is to originate appropriation bills—those bills which supply the money to keep the government operating.

In an interview filmed for television release, Senator Engle said:

"There is no question about tax and revenue bills. They must begin in the House. The Constitution says so. But appropriations are something else again."

THE COMMITTEE chairman—Senator Carl Hayden, 84, of Arizona and Rep. Clarence Cannon, 83, of Missouri—are veteran legislators too experienced and responsible to involve themselves in a personality clash, Senator Engle said.

"They are fighting over a vital legislative principle," Senator Engle said. "There are other factors, of course. Which side of the Capitol should they meet on? Who should chairman the conferences, a senator or a representative?"

Camping Attraction To World Fair

"Journey to the stars by day; sleep under the stars at night" might well be the slogan of the thousands of World's Fair visitors who are combining simulated space voyages on the fairgrounds with the pleasures of camping.

State parks of Washington—67 of them, plus 28 major historical and geographical areas—are scattered among magnificent settings near major highways all over the state. Of the 47 with camping facilities, 30 are in Western Washington, on the "green" side of the snow-capped Cascade Mountains, on rivers, lakes or Puget Sound, most of them within two hours of Seattle.

STATE CAMPING charges are a dollar per car, plus 50 cents for a trailer.

State parks do not accept reservations, but you can get general current reports on the space situation at any of them by contacting State Parks and Recreation Commission, 522 South Franklin, Olympia, Washington. A park information chart and a road map with the parks designated can be procured by writing to the same address.

Sun classifieds appear in five papers for one bargain price.

Position Open For Mechanic In 2nd Quarter

The Contra Costa County Civil Service Commission is accepting applications for equipment mechanic. This is a permanent full-time year round job in the Public Works Department in Martinez.

The job entails repair work to autos and heavy construction equipment. Pay is $560 to $614 per month plus fringe benefits. Requirements call for high school and four years of journeyman experience or eighth grade and eight years of experience.

For further information and applications, contact the Contra Costa County Civil Service Commission, Box 710, Martinez, or phone AC 8-3000, Ext. 415. Final filing is Friday.

Explorers Learn Painful Lesson

The members of Explorers Post 95, Mt. Diablo Council Boy Scouts, learned about bee-keeping the hard way.

A wayward swarm of bees took residence inside the walls of the "Staff Shack," the cabin reserved for counselors at Camp Herms.

Concern was shown when it became hazardous to open the window which was near the bees' entrance.

The Explorers' curiosity was aroused. Was there honey inside the wall?

Ripping a panel off the wall, they smoked out the bees in order to quiet them.

But, two bees escaped the fumigation.

The honey was scooped out after the painful protest of the two bees.

Sun Award Here

Details of the recent promotional first prize won by The Sun were received this week when the National Editorial Association, donors of the plaque, published the complete account in its monthly magazine.

Along with the citation and plaque went an advisory to all other weekly newspapers of the nation, suggesting that they follow The Sun's lead in demonstrating its acceptance by the community.

The NEA particularly pointed to the example of a huge brochure in which The Sun, under the direction of its publisher, Herman Silverman, called attention to the wealth and prosperity of the surrounding area, along with its vast retail trade zone.

THIS LATEST honor captured by The Sun was based on a series of promotional events of the newspaper and its affiliates. The NEA lauded the 29 specific activities which include:

Sponsorship of a Father-Son basketball night, Man of the Year awards, candidate nights, teenage employment assistance, commuter ride pools, subscription promotion by telephone and by premium, speeches at local organizations and the annual cocktail party for merchants and civic leaders at the publisher's home.

Also praised was the distribution of a special Sun brochure at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner, special mailing pieces to advertisers and subscribers, promotion in news stories and editorials, the Lucky Sun promotion campaign and the free dinner and free theater ticket promotion by the classified department.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This latter item also won an honorary mention for the want ad department of The Sun.)

The slogan: "Nearly Everyone Reads the Sun" was included in the events saluted by the NEA as well as house ads, commuter contests, an advertising workshop and a publicity workshop, a classified clinic, a clinic on the prevention of shoplifting, a journalism workshop, special signs for merchants to promote events, a reader questionnaire on how to improve the paper, a dinner for local Olympic stars and a rifle safety night.

TWO VACATION events wound-up the various features the National Editorial Association gave its stamp of first place approval. They were the Sea Party to Hawaii and the recently concluded Jubilee Holiday to Europe.

Publisher Silverman, and his family accompanied the party making the European trip, returning last week after a visit to many nations on the continent.

The newest award was given to The Sun during their absence. It is the 30th outstanding recognition received by the publication firm in recent months.

'Sidewalk Bazaar' Comes to Walnut Creek

Boys and Girls Can Earn New Bicycle Selling Sun

Boys and girls have an opportunity to earn a brand new bicycle, thanks to a special plan announced by The Sun for all youngsters of the area.

It's not a contest! It's a legitimate method of earning a $49.95 Royce Union Racer by merely signing up 12 new subscribers to The Sun as published in Walnut Creek, Orinda, Lafayette or Pleasant Hill.

The brand new racer bicycle will be given to every boy or girl who sells 12 new subscriptions at the regular rate of $3.75 per year.

"All participants are bound to make money on the deal The Sun is offering them," said Publisher Herman Silverman.

If the boy or girl fails to sell enough subscriptions to obtain the bicycle, The Sun will pay them $1 cash for each subscription turned in.

Of they can sell less than 12 subscriptions and pay the difference in cash for the bike. For example, a boy or girl who gets five subscriptions can pay $25 cash and get the bicycle or someone obtaining 10 subscriptions needs to pay only $8 cash.

NOW'S THE TIME to get to work. Interested boys and girls should come to the offices of The Sun at 1320 Locust in Walnut Creek or 1001 Oak Hill Road in Lafayette and obtain their receipt books at once.

The offer is good only until August 31. It's a money-making idea for the boys and girls and a great way to get the kind of a racer bicycle that every youngster has always wanted.

Permission from the parent or guardian is necessary to begin campaigning, so get the necessary slip signed up now and get busy on earning your $49.95 Royce Union Racer from The Sun.

Warm Weather Is Best to Put in Many Plantings

Plants that prefer mid-summer planting to any other include the citrus family's varied array of orchard-size and dwarf trees, plus guavas, avocados and other sub-tropical fruits.

Bougainvillea and hibiscus also prefer warm weather planting. All should be well watered in to start them on their way and citrus should have exposed trunks wrapped with burlap to prevent their sunburning.

IF YOU ARE a would-be vegetable gardener, snap beans, squash, beets, carrots, chard and radishes can all be planted from seed for late harvest, while plants of pepper, eggplant and tomatoes are available in most CAN nurseries. As we say, these are among the things which may be planted now if you choose to interrupt your siesta.

On the other hand, there are a few more maintenance jobs that the careful gardener will definitely not want to postpone.

Lawn care is something that rewards us with real pleasure. Runtown lawns, like rugged flower beds, are no fun to live with and unnecessary as well. Cutting, watering, feeding and weeding are not time consuming when regularly attended to. They make so much difference, too.

ALSO IN THE maintenance line, is the feeding of other hungry mouths in the garden. Azaleas and camellias should have their mid-summer booster of acid fertilizer. Roses, like humans, should be fed on a regular schedule—every three weeks or so. Chrysanthemums and dahlias have monumental appetites and will perform so much better when they are satisfied in this way. Begonias, fuchsias and hibiscus also respond to well balanced meals on regular schedules.

And lastly, there's the matter of pest control. Roses are the primary recipients of our attention, needing spray control for the various bugs which pay them call as well as for mildew (in certain areas) for rust.

Fair Time To Liven August

August warms up the fun calendar in the Redwood Empire, with a half dozen fairs atop the thermometer:

The Marin Shakespeare Festival at Ross will be held today and Saturday and August 10-11, 17-18, 24-25, 31 and September 1 through 2.

Petaluma will stage its first "Old Adobe Fiesta," August 18-19. And on the Russian River, there will be free square dancing all month long, Monday nights at Rio Nido, Wednesdays and Fridays at Guerneville.

The Napa Town and Country Fair, August 9-12; Humboldt County Fair at Ferndale, August 13-19; the Josephine County Fair at Grants Pass, August 22-25; the Redwood Empire Fair and Sports Show at Ukiah, and the Del Norte County Fair at Crescent City, both August 24-26; the Lake County Fair at Lakeport, today through September 2.

SPORTS EVENTS which started last Wednesday and will continue until August 12 and August 28-September 11 includes the SF Giants at Candlestick Park. Also featured is the State Babe Ruth baseball finals at Arcata, Friday to Sunday; the Valley of the Moon Chess Festival at Sonoma, Sunday; an AAU swim meet at Grants Pass, August 11-12; another at Healdsburg, August 18. The Redwood Empire all-star high school football classic at Arcata, August 25; plus "hot-boat" and water ski races at Lakeport each weekend.

Labor Day Traffic Topic in The Sun

Three suburban communities in Ohio have eliminated the traffic death toll over the Labor Day weekend. They stay at home—and have a wonderful time with their own parades, and fireworks and dancing in the streets. Read "No Labor Day Traffic for Him" in The Sun SUBURBIA TODAY on August 10.

Look for August Issue Of 'Suburbia Today'

What kind of student would you be today?

Chances are you would be a pretty good one, as you'll learn when the August 10 edition of The Sun brings you the August issue of SUBURBIA TODAY.

In "The Boom in Adult Education," the chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh tells how mature students do better in the classroom now than they did as undergraduates. And he finds that job opportunities and better citizenship are among the dividends for the eight million adults who will go back to school next month.

FAMOUS ACTOR Maurice Evans turns teacher in his lively article, "Get Into the Act!" Evans, currently starring with Helen Hayes in the Stratford, Connecticut, Shakespeare Festival, offers 17 dos and don'ts for the amateur thespian including tips on how to memorize, enunciate and how not to upstage your fellow actor.

Quentin Reynolds, world-traveling journalist and war correspondent, surveys the suburban scene (which he often inhabits when he's not on assignment) and comes up with an amusing article on the return of conversation to the suburbs—or what can you talk about after after-dinner coffee.

IN "NOW You're Talking," he tells anecdotes about the conversation-starting techniques of such notables as Mrs. Winston Churchill, Mrs. Bennett Cerf, and Arlene Francis.

Food editor Melanie De Prof-

plans "Lunch on the Terrace" and suggests crimson melon soup, ham mousse, asparagus vinaigrette and mace 'n' cheese biscuits for cool dining during hot August weather. Garnish with a tall glass of iced tea and a gentle summer breeze and you've got the makings to tempt even the most particular appetite.

FROM NOW through October is the time to landscape with evergreens. But be careful, warns garden editor John Brimer in "An Evergreen Is Forever." An innocent looking two-foot tree can turn into a gargantuan monster that blocks off windows and even scrapes shingles off the roof. He outlines how to choose and plant the right evergreens for your setting.

Take a look at "Suburbia—Any Day!" also in this issue, for some of the hilarious summertime situations that a six-year-old can create. And any sports enthusiast will chuckle at "Doubleheader," where cartoonist Robert Day portrays the energetic soul who tries to play the baseball-golf circuit—all in the same afternoon.

Finally, the editor of "Getting Around" hopscoches from Nassau County, New York, to Corona del Mar, and comes up with a two-headed, six-legged turtle, a street named Wong Way, and a retired dentist who drills intricate designs on king-size whale teeth, plus a dozen other items from the pleasant places of SUBURBIA TODAY.

LYA-Sun to Co-Sponsor Swim Meet

Between 600 and 700 community pool and recreation swimmers are expected to compete in this year's Second Annual Swim Championships co-sponsored by the Lafayette Youth Association and The Sun Newspapers.

The swim meet will be held on Saturday and Sunday, September 15 and 16.

No AAU club swimmers will compete in the meet.

More than 20 teams are expected to enter in this year's championships, won last September by the Walnut Creek Recreation team.

ENTRY APPLICATION will be available soon, according to Dick Dobbins, LYA swim coach and co-ordinator of the meet. There is an entry fee of 50 cents per swimmer.

Each swimmer is allowed to compete in two individual events and on two relay teams. Current AAU rules will govern the meet.

Preliminary heats will get underway at 9 a.m. on both days with the finals starting one-half hour after the end of the heats.

Medals will be awarded for first, second and third places in the individual events. Fourth and fifth place finishers will receive ribbons.

Lucky's Stores Boost Earnings

Both sales and earnings of Lucky Stores, Inc., were up for the second quarter, Gerald A. Aves, president, reported recently.

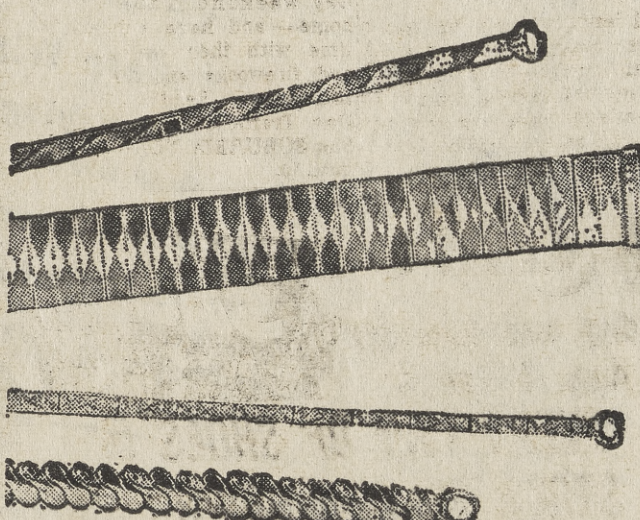

Consolidated sales for the second quarter were $56,177,912, an increase of $8,320,027 or 17.4 per cent over a comparable period in 1961.

Consolidated earnings for the quarter were $685,051 and showed an increase of $96,627 or 17 per cent over the same period last year. Per share earnings were 31 cents per share, up 14.8 per cent.

TOTAL SALES for the six months were $111,299,812 against $94,018,723 or an increase of 18.4 per cent. Total earnings for the first two quarters were $1,019,051 or 48 cents per share compared to $1,068,815 or 50 cents per share (after adjusting for a three per cent stock dividend) for a similar period in 1961.

Aves reported that the second quarter figures reflect the benefits of management's earlier efforts to maintain volume during keenly competitive periods and indicated that administrative and organizational planning had proved effective.

A dividend of 20 cents per share on the outstanding common stock, payable August 15, 1962, has also been declared by Lucky.

The Fair Cometh!

Five days of fun and excitement is in store for those who turn out for the Contra Costa County Fair during its August 1-5 run at the Antioch Fairgrounds.

Racing fans will be happy to note that a special program of racing has been set for the opening night.

JOHNNY SOARES, racing impresario of the regular weekly fare of thrills and spills racing on the fairgrounds track, said that he has planned a full racing program, designed to thrill everyone.

Featured during the 8 p.m. races, opening night, will be four heats.

There will also be a special trophy dash, with the purse for the lucky victor being announced the night of the race. Also on the program will be two, yet two 20-lap main events, to hold all the thousands of racing fans in their seats, and give them the mile a minute thrills and excitement, for which Johnny Soares is famous.

Some of the Northern California area's best racing drivers will vie for top prizes, and the excitement is guaranteed to be worth the gate admission.

GATE ADMISSION will be $1.50 for grandstand seats, and only $1 for the bleacher seats. Opening night has always been exciting at the Contra Costa County Fair, with its many exhibits, carnival, concessions, but this year the opening night highlight is the NASCAR auto races.

The usual Friday night races will not be seen this week only, due to the special performance of Connie Stevens and Robert Conrad, stars of "Hawaiian Eye" TV series, in the grandstand area at 8:30 p.m.

Racing will resume the following week, with another full card of thrills and spills, for the thousands that pack the area every Friday night.

AUGUST 3 at the fair will be the favorite day for the thousands of children in the county, for that is the day that means FREE admission to all children under 16 until 5 p.m.

This will also be a day that many of these same children show their skill in many contests and enjoy special programs designed for them.

A special baseball contest has been prepared for all children to show their skill in throwing, batting and running the baseball course.

Selected this year due to the increased number of children playing baseball in the Babe Ruth, Little League, etc., this contest is bound to have an overflow of participants.

THE OLD standards of many years back, the sack races, three-legged races, ping pong, ball carry, etc., will also be among the contests to pick the most agile, fleet of foot, strongest, etc. of the children.

The children will be divided into groups of proper age, to allow for a more even contest, according to Fred Kline, special events chairman. They will also be divided into boy-girl groups for prizes and trophies, so the girls will have a more even chance at some of the contests.

The north lawn will be one mass of children from 10 a.m. to well past noon.

The 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. horse show will find many children exhibiting their talents in the junior classifications.

Those that don't care to watch or participate in the horse show at this year's Kids' Day at the fair, will find a load of fun on the carnival rides and other concessions on the midway.

OF SPECIAL interest to all will be the "Art in Action."

Normally done by only the adult masters, this unique artistic hobby will be demonstrated for all viewers and questions by Merri's Revue in Western Village.

Young Shannon DeMart of Antioch will display his talents in clay sculpturing and molding as his contribution to this portion of the day's events, and will also bring some examples of his creation for all to see.

"Art in Action" has long been a favorite of fairgoers, and this year it is expected that many, young and old, will find these educational exhibits interesting and informing.

Adult "Art in Action" will be exhibited by Pauline Fowler demonstrating ceramics, Karen Basile working in gauche, and Francis Rodriguez working in mosaics. These adult artists will exhibit from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday, August 4.

AT 7:30 P.M. the scene shifts to the Western Village for the entertainment specially prepared for the Kids' Day, with the performance of the Maradon Show, a special musical variety show with children performing called "Babes in Toyland."

A number of amateur and semi-professional groups will have an opportunity to show off their talent to their fellow residents of the county during the fair.

SATURDAY, AFTER all the fun of watching the Newspaper-boys Handicap, children and parents alike will enjoy watching the special show

Thousands of Bargains Are Offered in Bazaar

All indications point to record in old-fashioned bazaar style, all participation in the "Sidewalk Bazaar" being staged by the retail trade committee of the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce this Friday and Saturday.

The "Sidewalk Bazaar" will feature selling of specially priced merchandise from decorated booths and tables set up on the sidewalk in front of local stores. Many stores will be open Friday night.

Clerks, some of them in costume, will "hawk" their wares featuring information on services performed.

Last year's Walnut Creek Sidewalk Bazaar proved to be one of the most popular retail events of the year and drew favorable comment from the shoppers. It is estimated an additional 30 per cent more stores will be participating this week.

POISON REMEDY

Do you know the proper first aid for oral poisoning? First, dilute the poison to minimize its effects. Milk is good because it coats the digestive tract and may slow the absorption of poison. Next, induce vomiting, except with poisons such as strong acids (carbolic acids, hydrochloric or sulfuric acids), lye products or kerosene.
